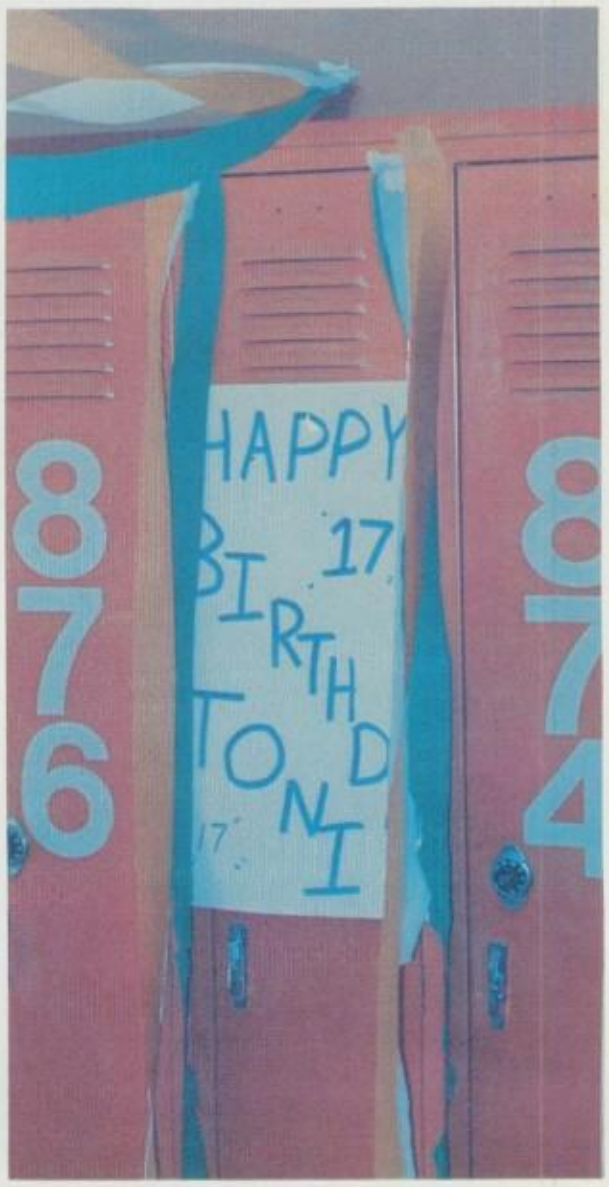
New. Unique. Modern. That's what we are. A school different from all of the rest. An experiment that would set examples for schools in Missouri's future. Splashes of orange, blue, and yellow, open classrooms and commons areas are different from any other school. What else was like McCluer North seven years ago? A pace setter. A challenge for our administrators and faculty to make it work. Have we convinced the skeptics? Have we passed the Test Of Time?

A favorite pastime of students is decorating lockers for their friends' birthdays.

Special Moments Of '78

In the fall, Kim Moody and Rob McDonnell enjoy floating with the Outdoor Club.

One of the leading scorers in the St. Louis area is McCluer North's Bobby Meyer.



Registration is the same as usual with the exception of the new instant I.D. cards.

After school, students head out to their busses by way of the courtyard.

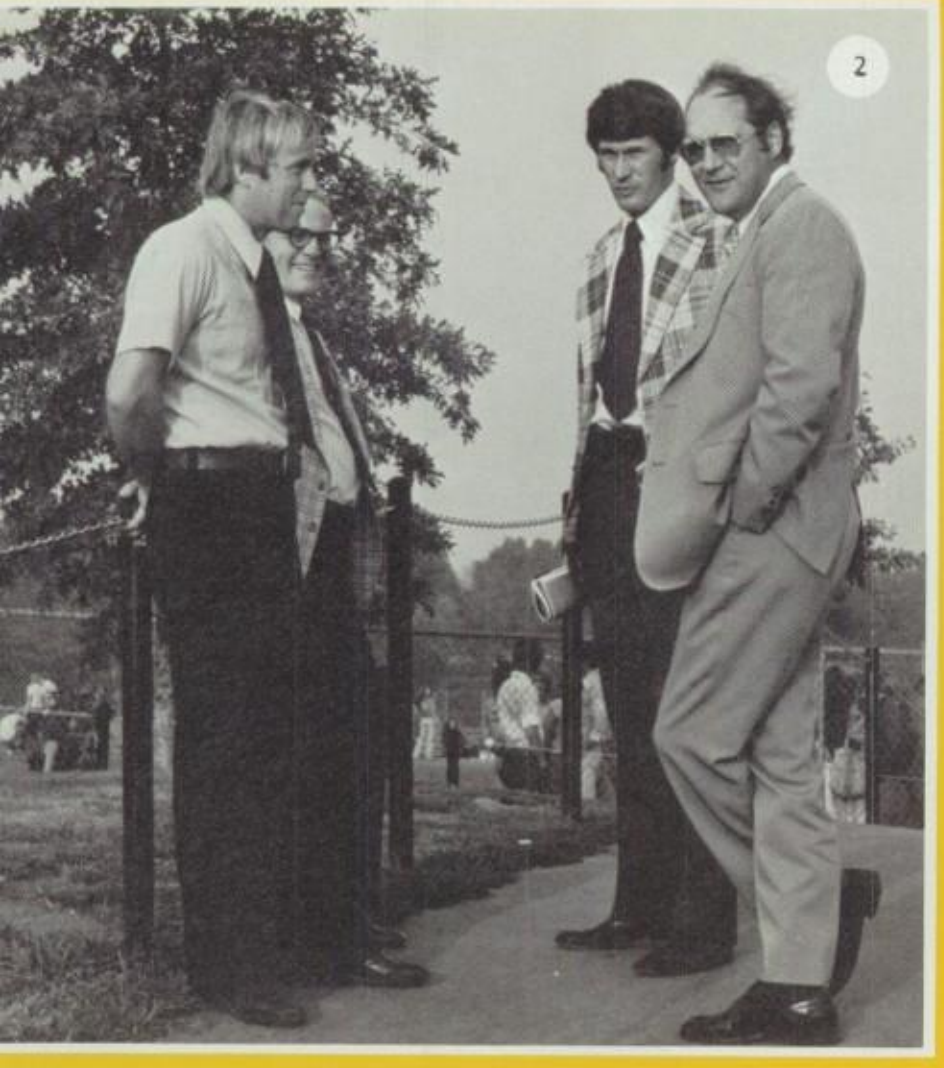
Everyday Life

Look at us! We've been judged, criticized and applauded. We've merged with Kinloch and become one. Haven't the Stars made themselves a name? Haven't we seen over three thousand students graduate on our football field? But are we so different anymore? Can't we be great without being unique? Haven't we passed the Test Of Time?

2 Bill Marcluski and John Cusma make use of the smoking area, a privilege not many schools have.

1 Scott Salmon, Nicole Milam, Kipp Kwarta, and aid, Beth Swehla have an afternoon snack in the Day Care Center.

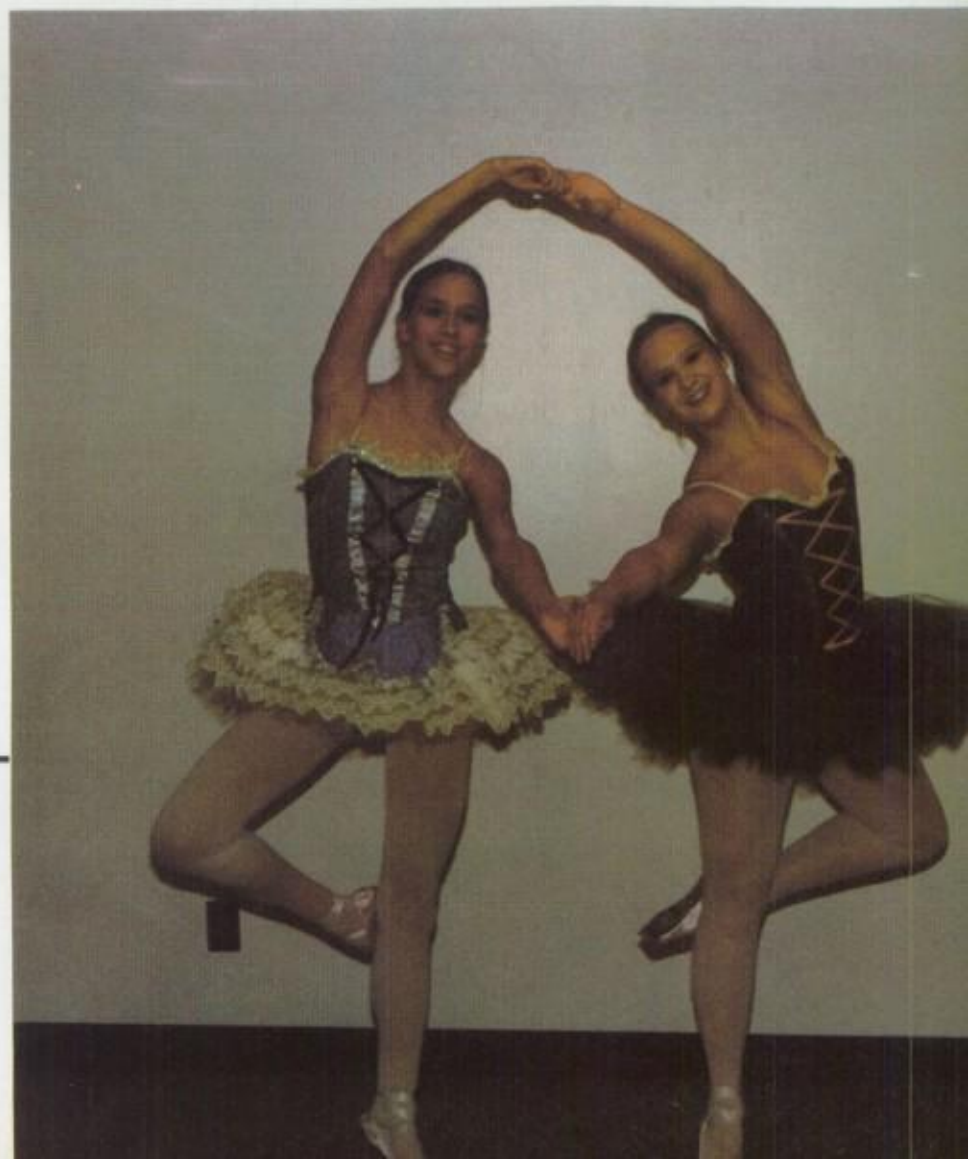


3 On the first day of school Bob Essman, Mark Spindler, Debbie Brown, and Cheryl McClean reminisce about the past summer.

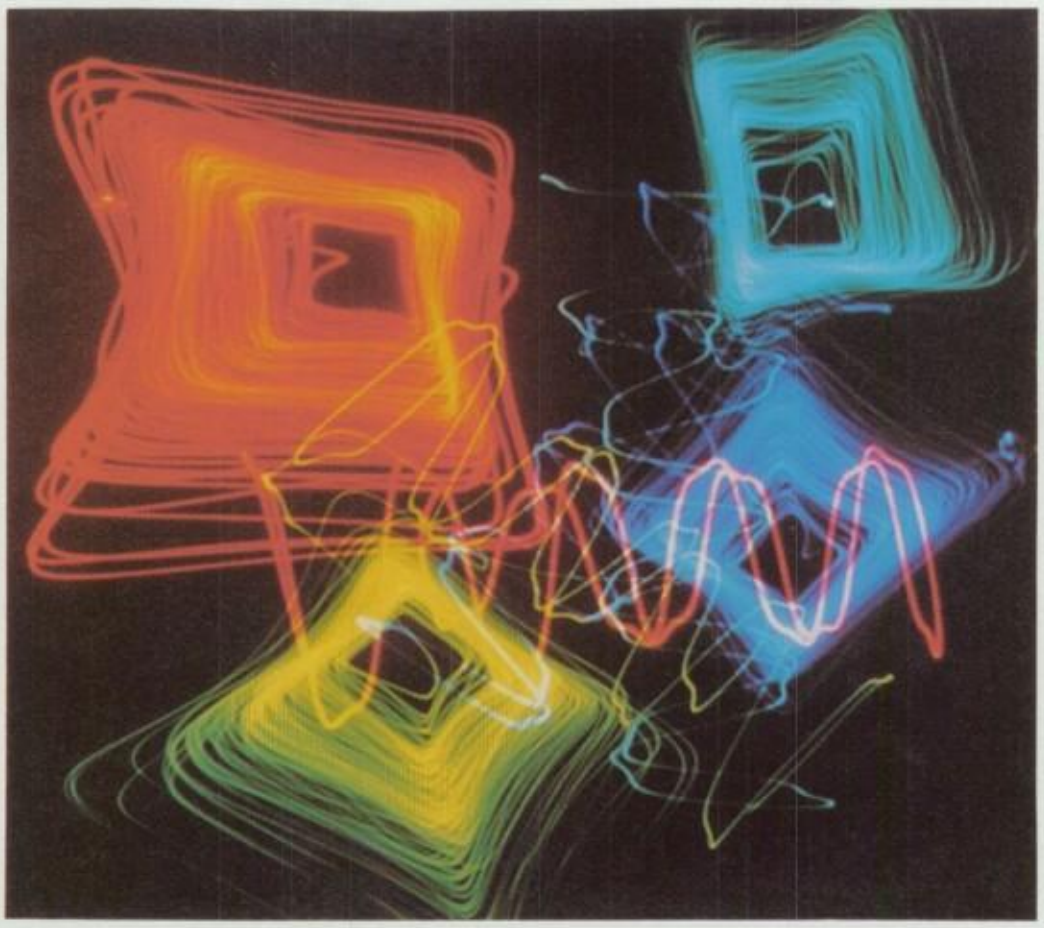
2 Greeting students every morning are Terry Proffitt, Martin Tempel, Larry Kreyling, and Bill Hampton.

A popular meeting place for MN students is McDonalds.

Members of the St. Louis Civic Ballet, Monica Albers and Lisa Schallert, spend many hours after school dancing.



Seven Years In The Making



Weren't all schools new and unique once? Pace setters in their own time? A challenge to their faculty and administrators? Now, settled with their own traditions and strong with experience. Do we have tradition and strength after only seven years? Have we met success? Others have passed the Test Of Time. Have we?

Students Find Jobs Necessary

Even though jobs were not always convenient, many students found them necessary. That extra pocket money came in handy on weekends for a date, shopping or a McDonalds after a football game.

Fast Food restaurants were the most popular places to work. Students also found jobs where they could get a start on their careers. Shelley Muhleman worked in the clothing department at Stix Baer and Fuller. She applied for this job after becoming interested in going into fashion as a career.

Sometimes jobs affected students' classwork, but all in all, jobs were an important factor in many students' lives.

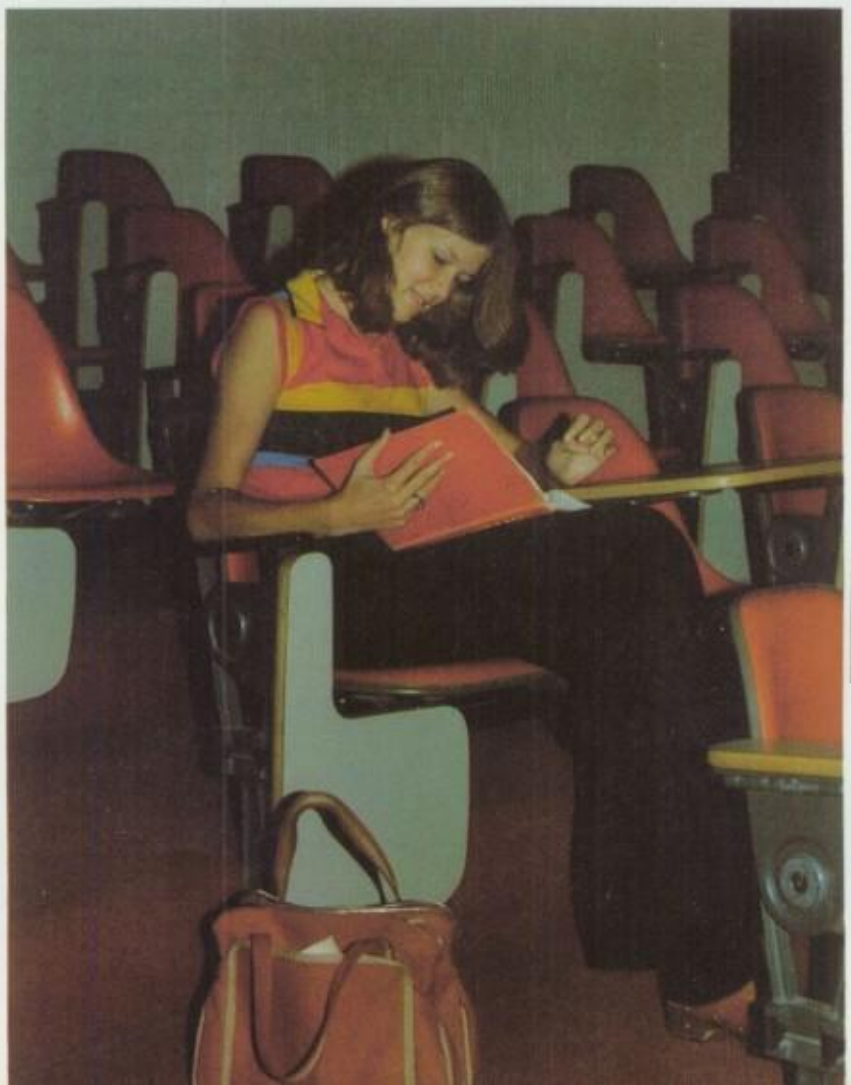
Student Life And Activities

Guys and Dolls. Homecoming. Horsemanship Club. Student Council . . . and the list of clubs and activities goes on and on. Thanks to Terry Proffitt's hard work, student interest and faculty sponsorship, McCluer North had a variety of activities to meet almost ev-everyone's needs and interests. If enough people showed interest in a new club and a sponsor could be found, another activity was added to the list. The Bike Club was just one example of a new club added this year. Mary Dempster felt, "There's no way for anyone to say they're bored because there's something for everyone."

Mike Cunnetto keeps warm in his cable knit sweater.

Three piece suits, like the one worn by Stephanie Steinhaufel, are seen often in the halls and classrooms.

Jeans Still Fashionable



With the cold weather setting in early in October, out came everyone's winter wardrobe. Shetlands, big shirts, plaid skirts and the classic three piece suit were all a part of the look this year. For the girls, striped sweaters were popular along with the cowel neck which seemed to go along with just about everything. Stick pins added the finishing touch to many an outfit. Crew neck sweaters were popular among the guys. And of course for everyone, jeans and a shirt was the best way to get comfortable.

Bob Gettemeier, Rich Plasmeier, Debbie Brown, Kim Moody, Claire Heltsley, Pat McHugh, Rob McDonnell, and Chris Lozano gather together at Debbie Brown's house for a weekly Young Life meeting.

Outside Life

Even though McCluer North offered many activities which appealed to students with various interests, students looked to active groups outside of school. Two groups, in particular, the Explorers and Young Life, seemed to be the most popular.

The Explorers are a coed group started by the Boy Scouts to try to help young adults work better together and learn more about themselves. Young Life is a non-denominational group whose purpose is to introduce the presence of Christ to high school youth.

Nights Are Fun

"Let's party!" "Wanna go to McDonalds?" "How about bowling or a movie?" "T.G.I.F.!" These common "Friday afternoon phrases" were heard from many McCluer North students this year. Living in an area with such a wide variety of night time activities made choosing any single one difficult.

Of course, parties were always a popular pastime of kids from North. If a place could be found to have it, and people could be found to go to it (which was never hard), a party was a great way to pass an evening. But parties weren't the only form of entertainment.

McDonald's saw an endless flow of people on Friday and Saturday nights. If kids weren't inside eating a Big Mac or drinking a Coke, they were outside in the parking lot waiting for a friend to pull in. Two other popular eating places in the area were Steak n' Shake and White Castle.

If someone had more money to spend they could go to a movie, a bowling alley, a pin-ball arena, or a multitude of other places. There were many good movies this year, shown at one time or another.

Regardless of what a person did on his nights out, the overall attitude of MN students was expressed by Kim Moody when she said, "It usually doesn't matter what I do as long as I'm with friends and have a good time."

Homecoming 77

Although Homecoming didn't officially begin until October 21, the excitement and planning started weeks in advance. Students jumped right in by pulling out the boxes of kleenex and began folding, stapling and fluffing. The football Stars were practicing their footwork along with several dance groups for the Friday night Review. Several musical groups were also polishing some numbers for the big night.

The weekend finally arrived and with spirits high by the end of the review, students jumped in their cars and took off to various garages across town to work until the wee hours of the morning putting all those fluffed flowers to use.

With little or no sleep, students, faculty and parents arrived Saturday morning on the Student Parking Lot for the judging and opening of the parade. Luckily this year it wasn't raining and the only worry was that floats would shed their flowers. The parade ended and the winners were announced with Pon Poms taking first in the float division and Girl's Tennis Team taking first place in the car division.

At 1:00 pm, in baseball weather, the football Stars ran on the field and started to "Corral the Longhorns." With a large and supportive crowd, they succeeded by rounding up Parkway West with a 26-6 victory.

As the sun went down and the stars came out, approximately 600 people headed back to school to enjoy an evening of dancing to the sounds of Trilogy. After each maid and escort was introduced, Carrie Curt was announced the '77 Homecoming Queen. As the band played its last song, couples headed for various restaurants and parties and an exciting weekend came to a close.

Tireless Efforts Bring Success

This year's Homecoming Committee consisted of many students who worked tirelessly throughout the beginning school months to achieve a completely successful weekend. These dedicated students worked well together as they carried out all of the many time-consuming duties assigned to them.

The duties ranged from choosing the theme to notifying the judges. One change made this year was the revising of the parade categories on the judges score sheets, making them more concise and explicit. Another change was having a first, second, and third place award for both the float and the car category.

The outcome of Homecoming weekend was expressed by Mary Pitliangas, one of the sponsors. "It was very, very successful. A lot of people were involved this year and participated which is also very good."

Thespians Plan Many Activities

The whole purpose of the International Thespian Society is to honor students who put in a great deal of time working on the plays. Thespian members of this past year were in a constant state of motion involving themselves in many activities. Among these activities were two initiations where incoming members were made to do daring stunts, a Christmas alumni gathering for past graduates, fund raising projects, and the planning of a trip to Indiana for a Thespian Conference, where students go to workshops and see many plays.

Billie Teneau, one of the Thespian Sponsors' commented, "Thespians play a significant role in inspiring students to do theatre work and students are able to function in the theatre with professional attitudes."

Comedy Opens Theatre Season

The dinosaur and the mammoth rested by the fire while the Antrobus family fearfully awaited the wall of ice moving down from the north. This was a scene typical of this year's unusual fall play, The Skin of Our Teeth, by Thornton Wilder and directed by Billie Teneau. The play was performed on October 28,29,30 and November 5,6,7 and was enjoyed by many in the cast and audience.

An unusual feature in this production was the double-casting of three of the lead roles. When asked her reasons for choosing The Skin of Our Teeth, Mrs. Teneau replied, "When we were studying it in "Unusual Theatre" last year I was reminded of its unusual aspects." These aspects included talking dinosaurs, glaciers and five thousand year marriages, all of which are uncommon in this day and age.

Afro Ball Proves To Be Big Hit.

In past years the Afro Ball has been one of the year's exciting dances. Approximately three hundred people attended this year's Afro Ball, topping last year's total by a substantial margin. Ruth Tolson, who spent her second year sponsoring the dance, explained that the Afro Ball was originally started in Kinloch to kickoff the basketball season because they had no football team. The pre-dance activities consisted of numerous performances by many groups showing their talents. A pantomime was performed by Craig Lane and a presentation of flowers was made to Mrs. Tolson. The dance itself was a memorable event topped off with the crowning of the queen, Sharon Smith, who was overwhelmed.

"Greatest Love" Is Ball Theme

The purpose of the Afro Ball Committee was to arrange the entertainment, decorate the gym, and select the band for the dance. Preparations began about one month in advance. The theme, "Greatest Love", was decided upon by committee members.

Miss Pierce and Dr. Williams helped with the selections of dance entertainment which ranged from African Folk dancing to Disco type dancing. Sponsor Ruth Tolson stated that once again she was very pleased with the committee's accomplishments.

North Stars At Busch Stadium

On Thanksgiving Day, the MN Marching Band and Pom-Pon Corps were invited along with two other bands and ten other Pom-Pon Corps to perform a halftime show at the Cardinal Football game. The group of more than 400 people started practices in the summer to perfect the show.

They arrived at the Stadium four and one-half hours before game time, practiced, then took their seats on the field. After the performance, Band Director Linton Luetje said, "The performance was a success." He also said that he had heard many positive remarks about the show.

Annual Vespers Enjoyed By All

A sudden hush, an organ prelude, and the lighting of candles was the climax of many months of preparation for the annual Christmas Vespers on December 4th.

Christmas music, distributed to the choirs in September, had to be learned and polished by the first of December. As concert time approached, plans for decorating the gym were completed. An Old English Street theme was selected, and on December 3 the transformation of the gym took place. Starting after the morning rehearsal, many students stayed to help hang stained glass windows, put up the Christmas tree, line the aisles with old-fashioned lamp lights, and hang holly and lights. The decorating was completed at midnight and everyone headed for home anticipating the following day.

On Sunday, madrigals performed in the concourse at 3:30. At 4:00 the concert started. After the annual candle-light prossesional the three choirs sang their repertoire. Concert choir performed many selections from the Messiah including choruses and solos. Choir II, led by it's new director Sharon Woll, performed many traditional Christmas songs. Choir III joined Concert Choir in singing O'Filu et Filiae and the Hallelujah Chorus.

After many months of practice, MN's chorus did another excellent job of presenting themselves as hard working and talented students. This can be evidenced by the pleased audience that listened to the 1977 Vespers.

Seasonal Spirit Reigns At MN

The Santa, Mrs. Santa, and Scrooge contest, special Christmas concerts, personal Christmas greetings . . . those were just a few of the activities that went on during the Christmas season at MN.

Most students at MN get into the Christmas spirit through the Santa, Mrs. Santa, and Scrooge contest. MN students proved to be very generous. The Scrooge contest had a new twist with Mrs. Krieg winning the title. Mrs. Tolson was voted Mrs. Claus, but the most money was raised in the fight for Santa Claus. Mr. Jones led most of the race, but Mr. Luetje won at the last minute. After hearing that the grand total was over $2,000, Terry Proffitt, Director of Student Activities, commented, "People here at North are the most fantastic people I've ever met."

The Music Department also provided a great deal of Christmas atmosphere. From the first of December with the traditional Vespers, right up to the last day before break with the various musical groups performing throughout the day, the halls of MN were filled with music.

Another musical treat was the second annual singing of personal carols. This year, the Pom-Pon Corps sponsored the activity, which was a popular way of showing one's feeling for a friend.

The Student Relations Committee also had their own personal greetings. They invited a few hundred students to join them in making giant greeting cards to their friends.

The wide variety of Christmas activities enabled everyone at MN to really get into the Christmas spirit.

Choir IV Aims For Spring Trip

This year's Choir 4 has grown to 68 to be the largest in McCluer North's history. When trying out for Choir 4, one had to be able to demonstrate all the skills in music, such as sight and rhythm reading. The Christmas concert was once again a great success. The hardest music performed this year was Twelfth Night in the Christmas concert, and the Symphony of Psalms with the McCluer North Orchestra. A highlight of the year was the trip to Texas in the Spring.

MN Arranges New Pop Choir

Students here at McCluer North have always shown enthusiasm and interest in trying something new. Pop Choir began this year because of this. After watching a performance from Danville, Illinois, students asked if they could also arrange a choir that danced along with singing.

Therefore, the choir was formed with juniors and seniors enrolled in choir, band, or orchestra this year. The choreography was performed with jazz, rock, and pop music. The outfits, chosen by the students, were of multiple colors on a black background. Their performances, directed by Don Jones, were at places such as the Little Theater, the Lions Club, and Cross Keys Jr. High. The Theme song, "I Got The Music In Me" fit the enthusiasm and interest within the choir.

1977 Madrigals Sing At Airport

16 out of 50 people were chosen for Sophomore Madrigals. They were chosen for their tone quality and their ability to read music and rhythms. Their director Sharon Woll acompanied them as; they sang at the airport and at Famous Barr.

McCluer North sponsored a concert March 16 for the parents this year. The Sophomore madrigals sang 17-18th century music along with an occasional pop song.

A Junior Joins Jr. Sr. Madrigal

The Junior-Senior Madrigals were unique this year because there was only one Junior. A bass, Steve Venturella. "Not many Juniors tried out for madrigals this year," said Don Jones, the director of the madrigal.

He also said, "Last year we tried to make madrigals a pop choir as well as a madrigal, but it didn't work out too well, so this year its going to be strictly a madrigal choir."

Cast Practices Over Vacation

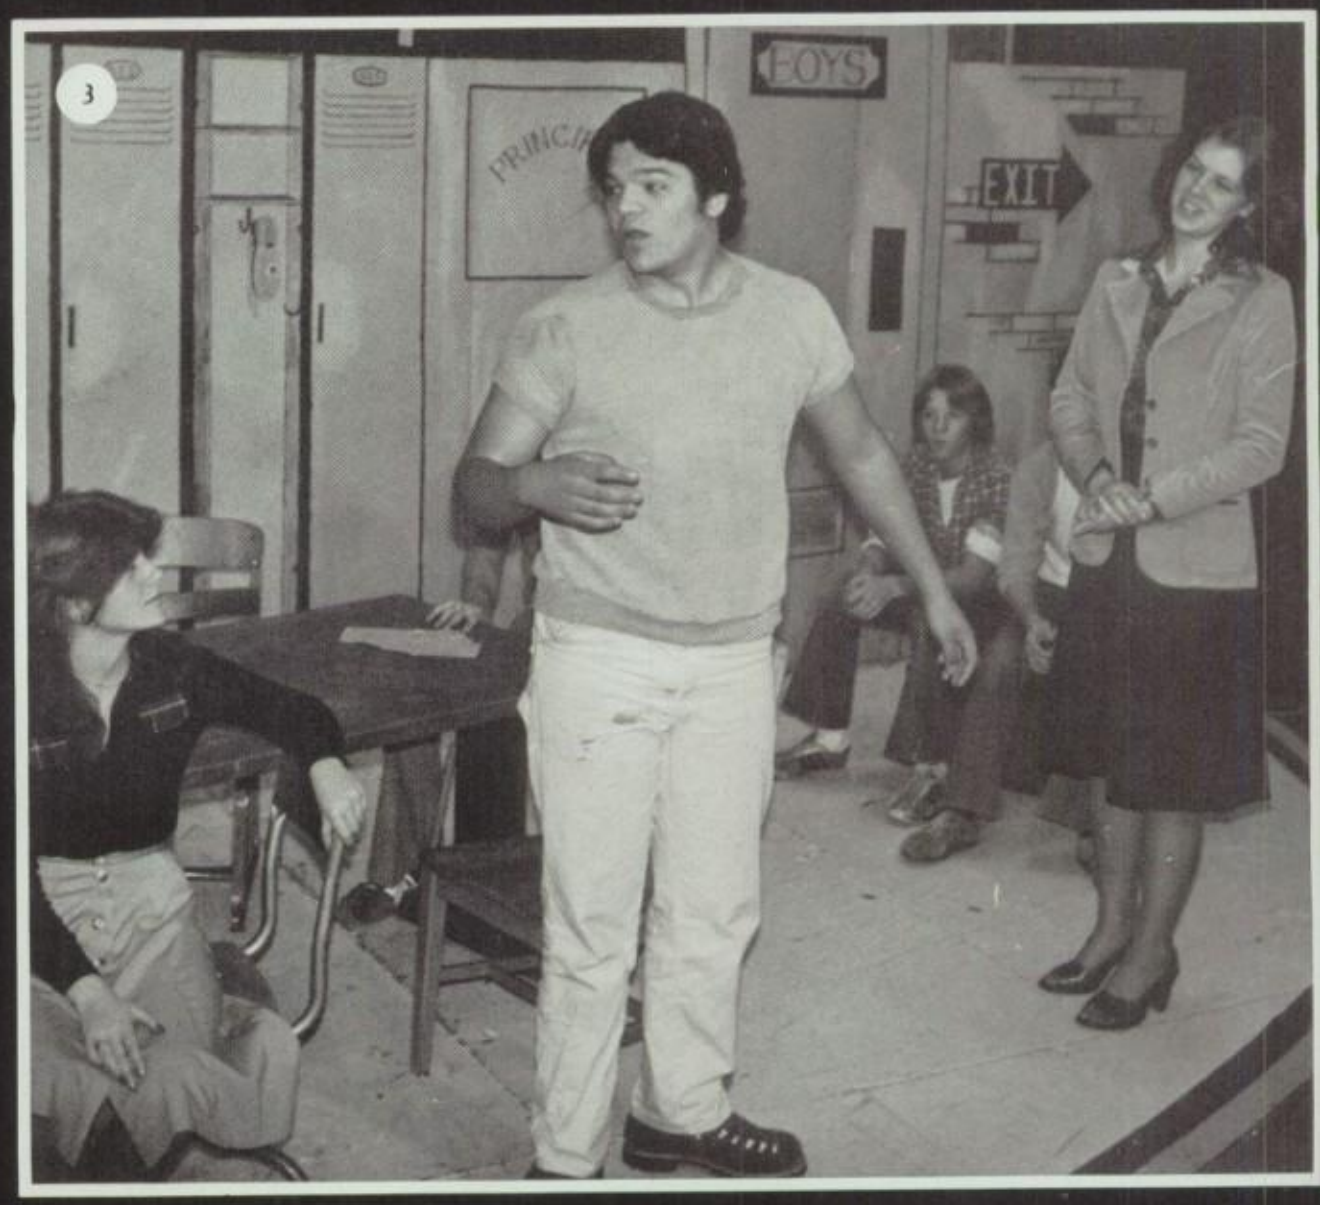
The role of a high school student can be a lot of fun, especially if the role can be played on stage. Such in the case of Up The Down Staircase, MN's winter play written by Bel Kaufmen and was performed on two consecutive weekends in the Little Theatre. Mrs. Connie Schindewolf, director of the play, and three student directors joined forces to direct the thirty talented actors and actresses in the play. "Big casts are great," said Connie Schindewolf, "there are so many opportunities open to kids. However, having a big cast often creates a lot of absences and naturally with all those people, rehearsals are chaotic."

The play deals with a new teacher at Calvin Coolidge High and her experiences with the students. "I chose this play because I thought everyone would relate to it better. Students and teachers will appreciate MN more because MN's approach to learning is more humanistic in comparison to the Calvin Coolidge High learning application," continued Connie Schindewolf.

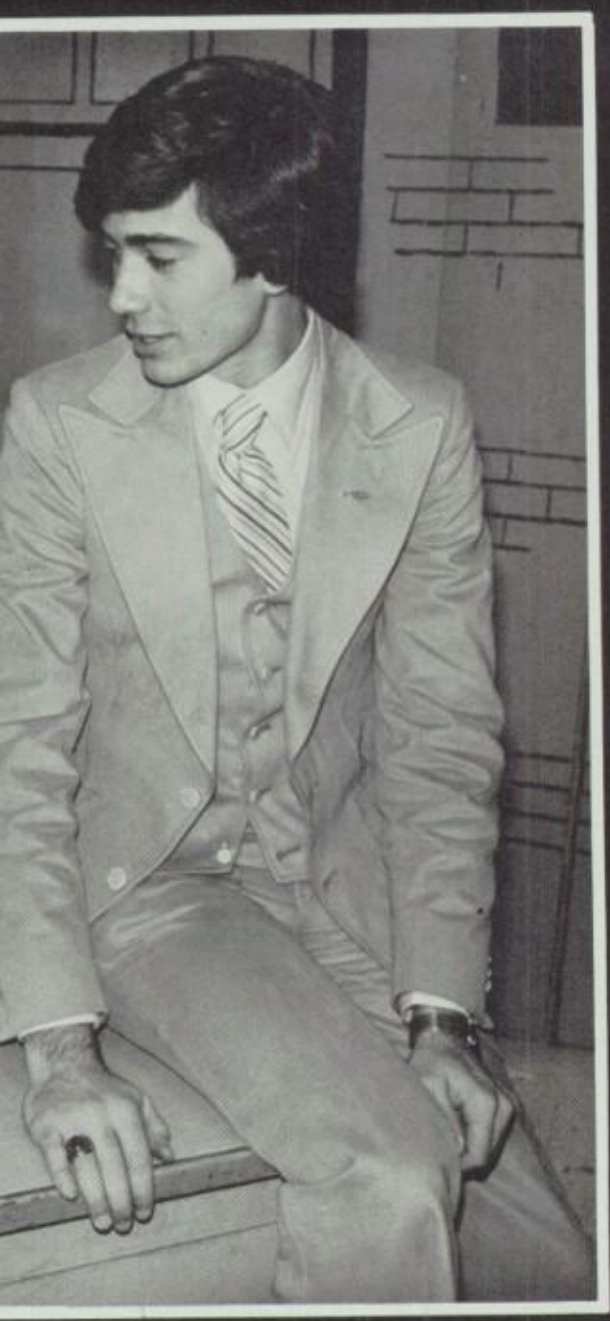
The cast practiced everyday after school and even a couple of times over Christmas vacation. The play, on an over all view, contained many fast moving, warm characters full of feeling.

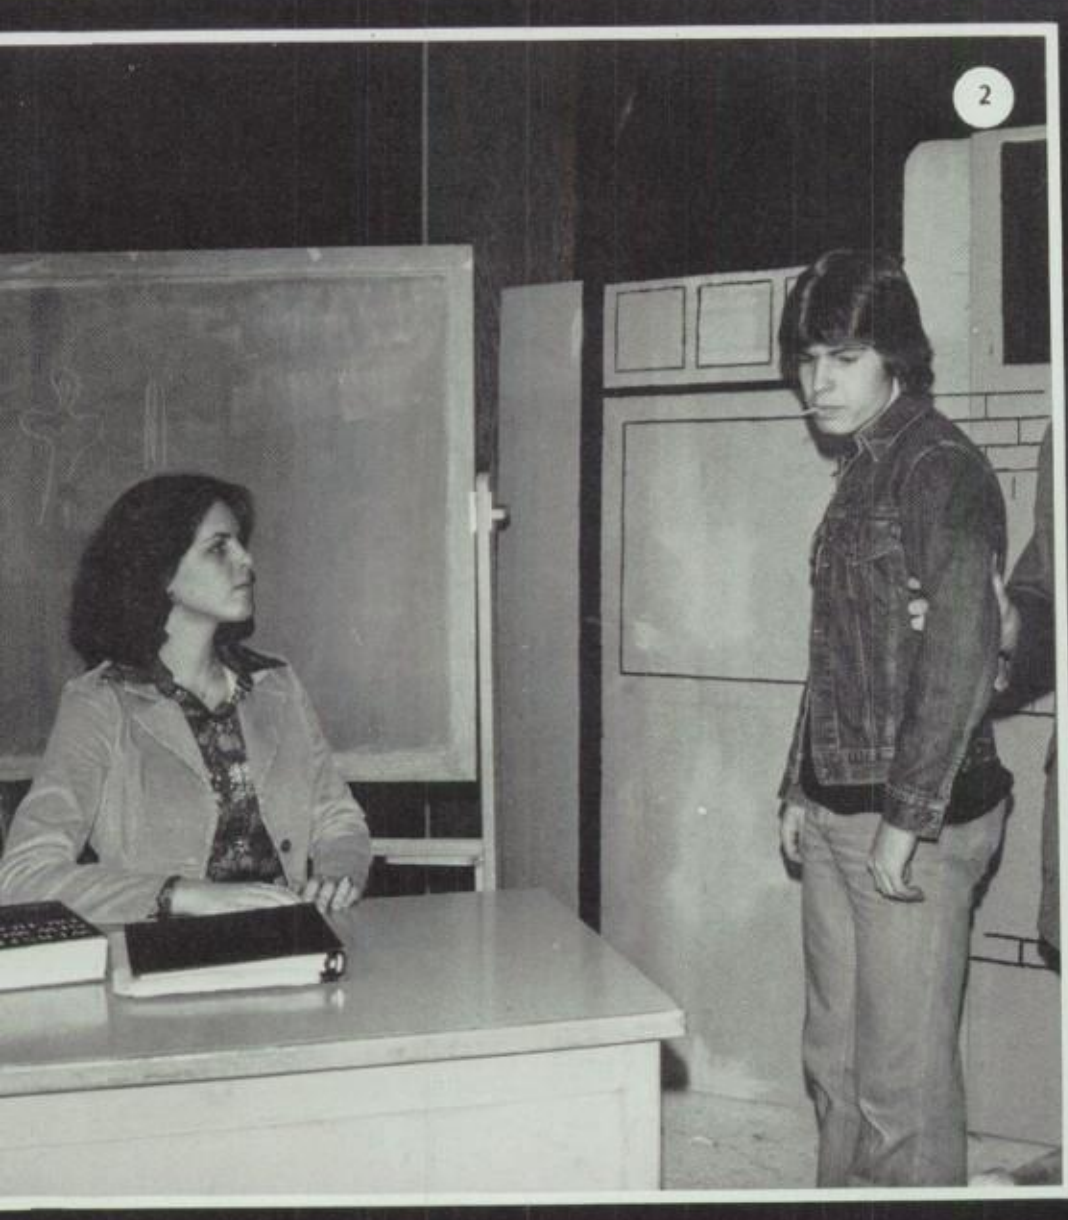
1 Miss Barrett (Karen Albers) apprehensively looks at her first class.

2 Miss Barrett (Karen Albers) thinks she is falling in love with Mr. Barringer (Greg Klingerman).



3 Jose Rodriguez (Chris Lazano) realizes that he's not as dumb as everyone thinks he is, when he figures out what the theme of a play is.





1 Having fun in class for Lennie Newmark (Mark Bonkoski) is falling out of chairs.

2 Joe Ferrone (Mark Rossio) is never in class and as a result, is being reprimanded by Sylvia Barrett (Karen Albers).

3 Dr. Clark (Paul Wolverton) makes his speech which signifies the opening of school

NHS Succeeds In Blood Drive

The National Honor Society is a distinguished organization which once again achieved excellance at MN this year. MN's NHS is made up of many students who fit the requirements. The individual must meet a set grade point average according to what year in school he is in. A list is made of all students fitting these requirements and then sent out to the entire MN faculty and staff. The faculty is to choose students they think would make good NHS members. Students are rated on their leadership, service, scholarship, and character.

An activity that has always been sponsered by the NHS was the annual blood drive. In 1977 MN set a new school record on units of blood donated. The NHS hopes to set an overall record in years to come.

With the NHS being here since the school's second year in existence, it has proven a fulfilling organization and one that is well honored at MN.

IIC Discusses MN's Problems

The Instructional Improvement Committee (IIC) was a group of students, teachers, and administaters, formed to analyze some of the major problems that faced McCluer North. Litter in the classroom, vandalism in the bathroom, and the problem of rating courses advanced, intermediate, or general, were a few of the problems that faced the committee. Dave Carpenter, chairman, felt that this group was an integral part in working out the school's problems.

Club Competes Mostly For Fun

Enjoyment was the real reason for the organization of the bowling club. To keep from depriving anyone of a fun time, there were no tryouts for membership. Mrs. Harre, the team's sponsor, seemed quite satisfied by the team's enthusiasm. She had stated, "They're a good group of kids, and competive, but they don't go all out just to beat each other. They compete mostly for fun."

SRC Improves Communication

Student Relations Committee has come a long way from last year. The committee conducted a survey, a suggestion booth, and sponsored a Christmas mural which was hung in the library.

The survey which was conducted was to help the committee find out what MN student concerns were. One-hundred and one students were involved, approximately equal numbers of male/female, black/white, and 10/11/12 grade students were asked to rank issues in the order that most concerned them. The top three issues were student-teacher relations and communications, black-white student relations, and teachers favoring certain students. The suggestion booth gave students a chance to give suggestions on the survey results which helped the committee solve some of the problems. The committee also sponsored the Christmas mural which brought two-hundred students together in a positive, fun situation. The students were paired, and created together a Christmas message to MN.

Mike Thacker, sponsor of Student Relations Committee, felt the committee was successful because the kids on the committee were energetic and willing to work, and that the administration backed the committee 100%.

Student Council Builds A Base

After five years of being an off and on activity, Student Council has finally become an instrumental body here at MN. The council came up with many plans for improvement. With some thorough research and tactful presentations to the administration, they accomplished many of their goals.

Some of the main concerns of students that were resolved were: Activity Passes became a reality, the pressure in the water fountains was increased, and more pencil sharpeners were installed in rooms. Although these changes may seem trivial, they were concerns of MN students and it is Student Council's responsibility to take students' needs into account.

Hopefully this year's council was the first in line of many active and successful student councils that are to serve McCluer North. Meredith Gilchrist, secretary, stated, "For once our student council has done something worthwhile for the students and I hope we have set a base for future student councils."

The Student Rights and Responsibility Committee was formed last year so that MN students could have an opportunity to sound their gripes. Not many complaints were heard this year.

Since the committee is open to all students, it can be very beneficial. The most important thing to remember about this is that it was always there when it was needed.

Spring Concert Highlights Year

Concert band this year worked hard to improve its ability to play "high class" music. The band played at many concerts. They played at the Pops concert, the Spring concert, and the outdoor concert. Mr. Luetje said, "The sound of the over all band sounded complete and together.

Sophs Improve Musical Ability

Sophomore Band is not really a band as such. It's actually a "Prep" band. In this band, the students worked strictly on methods that help improve techniques and ability in playing. After being in "Prep" Band, the students advanced to Concert Band or Symphonic Band. While in Prep Band, the students may switch instruments to play those needed in the Concert Band or Symphonic Band. The Prep Band did not perform, but spent all of its time preparing for their advancement. Mr. Luetje, director of the band said, "Sophomores are considered a definite asset. We can't involve them all at once, but the students are valuable members and will be advanced. Because of the flexibility we had", continued Mr. Luetje, "we've been able to start beginners in the Concert Band Second semester."

Orchestra Uses Many Soloists

The Orchestra performed four concerts this year, a Spring Concert, a Pop Concert, a Thanksgiving Concert, and a Solo Concert. The Solo Concert was a unique concert where four students performed by themselves. The soloists were Bill Triplett-piano, Ann McCrmick-piano, Barb LaRico-violin, Libby Triplett-violin, Lynn Basow, the orchestra director, said that the 50 students did a very good job at all of the concerts.

Band Finds Its Talented Eighty

This year's Symphonic Band was made up of 80 talented people. They played many different types of music written for the band. They performed at Festival in May, along with other bands and choirs. They were then graded. Mr. Luetje stated the group was a great band and their concerts were usually very good.

Marching Band Does '78 Prank

Ambition and unity were always needed to make a fine band and MN's Marching Band had those qualities. The band, consisting of 132 members, did the Senior Prank this year during the half-time Senior Show football game. One piece of music performed was "Goody-Goody" where the students were to yell Goody-Goody between measures of eight counts. Instead, they shouted "Linton Luetje" the MN's band director. At the end of the show as the big N was formed to march all in one direction off the field, the N divided in half and marched off in opposite directions.

Although Marching Band had its fun, it was not all fun and games. Band members worked hard and were dedicated. The last two weeks in August and after school everyday, the band practiced marching, pivioting, playing and making formations. During the half-time shows, they played popular melodies such as "The Entertainer" and "Rocky". The band held other performances outside of school games. One the band looked forward to was the halftime show at Busch Stadium on Thanksgiving Day along with the Pom Pon Squads and McCluer's and Sumter's band. They also played in the Valley of Flowers parade in May.

Pom Pons Win Again At Camp

Once again success came McCluer North's Pom Pon Corps way. For the fifth year in a row North's Pom Pon corp was voted most outstanding corp and received the highest score in their division at camp in Vincennes, Indiana. They also were invited to perform at the Thanksgiving football game at Busch Stadium. Everything went well for the corp. They performed at many games and participated in competitions and clinics. Head instructor Karen Wulff stated, "Enthusiasm in addition to hard work and determination made this year a successful one for the McCluer North Pom Pon Corp."

Drum Majorette Joins The Band

The Majorettes consisted of four girls, with the help of Drum Majorette, Julie Stout. The majorettes' sponsor was Sue Benassi. The majorettes were chosen by selective tryouts.

The majorettes practiced with the band every day after school and helped teach band members shows. They also performed in basketball games, which is when they had solos on their own.

New Additions To Color Guard

Color Guard was made up of eleven this year, four more than last year. New additions to the squad line were the school banner, Bennington flag and a Commander. The Commander, Nancy Hamilton, gave all commands during the shows. She also met with Mr. Luetje and made up their part in the half-time shows.

Color Guard was on a voluntary basis. Members came everyday after school and practiced for half-time shows and for Valley of Flowers in May with the band. When needed they would fill-in during shows.

Sophomores Are School Spirited

The Sophomore Cheerleaders really had an excellent squad this year. They combined good cheering with jumps and acrobatic stunts. They also were one of the most enthusiastic sports supporters at McCluer North.

The cheerleaders cheered at all sophomore football, basketball, wrestling, and soccer games. To do this the Cheerleaders practiced three days a week during the summer and every Wednesday night during school.

77 Cheerleaders Excel At Camp

During the summer, the Varsity Cheerleaders practiced every morning and Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday nights for the Cheerleading Camp which took place at the end of July. All their work was rewarded when they came home from camp with five blue ribbons, the Award of Excellence, a Spirit Stick, and the Spirit Megaphone. They were able to achieve these accomplishments because of the hard work of the squad and the patience of Karen Branding and Connie Sweeney, co-captains, and Nancy Adelsberger, sponsor.

The Varsity Cheerleaders took on a heavy load this year. They cheered for Football, Cross Country, and Soccer in the summer, and boys and girls Basketball and Wrestling in the winter. Besides cheering, the Cheerleaders decorated Ponderosa, baked cakes, and made good luck notes for the players of the teams.

Reverse Dance: A Big Success

What a 'switch'! This was the typical reaction of many at this year's annual Reverse Dance. It was the time of year that all of the girls got to ask their favorite guys out on a date.

Balloons and crépe paper helped to set the quiet mood and a revolving mirror ball sparkled throughout the evening. Deliverance played a variety of music that kept everyone dancing and MN's barbershop quartet entertained everyone with a surprise performance during one of the band's breaks.

At 11:00, when the dance ended, many couples headed for various restaurants and parties where they spent the rest of the special evening. The general concensus was that everyone had a good time and once again the "turn about dance" was a big success.

Seniors Choose The Class Gift

The Senior Committee remained active throughout the entire year. Their two main responsibilities were to select the senior gift and plan for graduation ceremonies. In order to raise money for the gift, committee members kept busy having bake sales and selling T-shirts. They also sold mums at homecoming and organized the Christmas alumni reception. Co-sponsor, Doris Eschbach, stated that dedication in addition to enthusiasm were factors in making the Senior Committee a successful group.

The Rifle Club, New This Year

The latest addition to MN's extra curricular activities was the Rifle Club sponsored by John Reidy. Junior Amanda Cheatham brought up the idea of beginning such a club. She stated that the club was for anyone interested in shooting air rifles who wanted to compete with other high schools. So far this year, the club hasn't found an indoor range available for practice. But hopefully next year the club will attract more members and be able to meet regularly.

Many Girls Are Prom Planners

Junior Committee's main responsiblity was to plan the junior-senor prom. As a fund raising project, the committee sold sweet and sour suckers. After completing that, the committee met regularly discussing detailed plans for the prom. Marsha Lobel and Jane Curry were sponsors of the committee. They, along with Mr. Proffitt, director of student activities, chose Sharon Smith and Lynn Curran as the chairpersons of the committee.

Over the Christmas vacation, Mrs. Curry and Sharon Smith traveled to South St. Louis to listen to the band "Cheap Mink" audition. They played a variety of music and when chosen, the committee felt the band would please everyone. "They're the one for us," commented Sharon as they played a tune recorded by Fleetwood Mac.

This year's prom was held on May 26 at Pipefitter's Hall. Even though the committee was not very large, Mrs. Lobel felt the committee would make the prom a success.

Club For North Animal Lovers

For the second consecutive year, the Animal Club was open to MN students who had an interest in animals. The club was sponsored by Neta Pope. Animal club members owned and cared for a variety of animals including a boa constrictor, guinea pigs, snakes and other species. The club went on different field trips and had guest speakers broadening their background and interest.

Members Learn Techniques For Riding A Horse

Learning about horses and horsemanship was the purpose of the 1977-78 Horsemanship Club. The club went on many campouts and horseback riding activities. Many Members Plan Activities

Every Tuesday, after the final bell rang signalling the end of school, the MN language rooms changed their atmosphere for the International Committee meetings. The committee consisted of thirty active members and was sponsored by Gail Klein and Martin Page.

The committee had two main functions. The first was to become a social committee to all members, including those activities such as parties and volleyball games in their schedules. The other reason was for its duties as a service club. "As a service club we sponsor organizations which, in turn, sponsor the foreign exchange students from MN," said Mr. Page. However, the American Foreign Exchange Program was dropped this year because it was too expensive. "Right now, we are just not sure," stated Mr. Page. "We're trying to find another organization to sponsor, but we're just in the decision making process at this time."

The whole purpose of the International Committee was to promote the general understanding through committee activities and sponsorship of the Foreign Exchange System.

MN Kids Love Being Outdoors

Once again, MN kids had a lot of outdoor adventures. Belonging to the outdoor club was one way to experience much of the great outdoors by going on school sponsored outings.

The fall float trip and the spring float and camp out were enjoyed by many. Linda Duggan, junior officer commented, "The thing I like about outdoor club is that it gives me a chance to be away from home for awhile and have fun with all my buddies." Outdoor club should continue for years to come because of the high interest and totally open participateion policies. Officers planned improvements for the club to be even stronger in the future.

Girls Dominate Dancing Group

Dance Club is a group of students that participate in dancing strictly on interest. Because the members get involved by interest, there is no limitation to talent. The experienced as well as the beginners can participate in this club. There are roughly 25 dancers in the club. There are more girls than there are boys in the group, however, the boys did participate in Homecoming.

Sophomore, Denise Robinson, a member of the Dance Club said, "I enjoyed practicing with the other girls in the Dance Club, and seeing what kinds of dances they did. During the Homecoming Review, I felt a little nervous to perform in front of a large crowd," she added.

Spirited Maids Help Wrestlers

The mat maids were not maids who cleaned mats but were girls who kept score and records, put posters and signs up, and showed their complete McCluer North spirit for our wrestling team. The squad contained six girls and two co-captains, Lynn Bonkoski and Jeanne Brown. They went to every wrestling meet and often supplied their own transportation proving their devotion to the team.

FCA Expands Club Activities

In addition to its regular activities, this year the Fellowship of Christian Athletes joined a volleyball league. Some of the regular activities included selling refreshments at home basketball games, weekly meetings, fall and spring picnics, and Christmas caroling. The volleyball league, sponsored by the Trinity Nazarene Church in Hazelwood, provided McCluer North students with an opportunity for recreation and a chance to gather together with other friends. At the weekly meetings, students discussed current issues popular to the Christian belief. Mike Ervin, sponsor, felt that this club gave many McCluer North students an opportunity for growth in Christ.

Chess Changes Regular Format

This year, the Chess Club underwent some major structural changes. William Riddle, a math teacher here at McCluer North for two years, took over as sponsor. In previous years, McCluer North's Chess Club was in competition with other schools on a regular basis. This year, the ten club members usually competed on an intrascholastic basis but occasionally compted inter-scholastically. Mr. Riddle felt that the club which met every Monday for 1-1½ hours, was a good form of fun and intellectual growth.

Band Displays Enormous Spirit

The music of the Pep Band is a very familiar sound to most MN students. The forty member, all volunteer group, practiced two days a week after school. Their performances included the Homecoming Review and all home basketball games. The band had no definite plans after basketball season, but was always ready for a last minute concert.

The group included many different songs in their repetoire, the most popular being the school fight song. Juniors, Barry Stephens and Todd Curry commented, "We like songs such as 'Camelion' and 'Get It On', but we hardly ever get the chance to play them." Steve Sullivan, an enthusiastic MN basketball fan said, "Pep Band is supposed to get your spirit in the game. I think our Pep Band does."

Dixieland Band Added At MN

A new sound was heard at MN this year. It was the music of the Dixieland Band, a group of seven musicians dedicated to the performance of jazz music. The group was originally supposed to be a jazz band, but schedule problems kept many interested students from joining the group. The band performed at the Homecoming Review and shared a concert at Cross Keys Junior High with Pop Choir. Sophomore Rich Richards, drummer for the group, stated, "Dixieland Band is an interesting class and we learn a lot more than just Dixieland music." The class hopes to continue and grow so that they can become a real jazz band.

Spring Musical Casts Practice Months Ahead

The musical cast of MN's musical, Guys and Dolls, worked diligently throughout the months of January, February and March to achieve their goal of six perfect performances. Practices were divided into different categories with the singers and dancers practicing immediately after school as did members of the orchestra. Then at night the talents from each group combined efforts to form the whole musical cast. "It's definately a challenge. I've never tried to tackle a part quite this big," commented Jon Meier who starred as Nathan Detroit. Don Jones, musical director, stated, "Rehearsals are going just fine and we plan to have an outstanding musical."

MN Club Plans Social Activities

The Social Committee was a small group of people who met once or twice a month. They planned events such as the Valentine's Day Reverse Dance, and they decorated lockers for Christmas. Mr. Proffitt, sponsor, stated that it was a good club, but that more members were needed as well as more activities to do.

Government Is A Lot Of Fun

Youth-in-Government, a statewide program run through the YMCA, was a new club at McCluer North. Students from North organized into what is known as the Florissant Delegation. After weekly meetings held throughout November and December in which the group raised funds and planned strategy, the delegation attended the Eastern District Convention at Florissant Valley Community College. Sixteen members of McCluer North attended. At the convention, delegation leader Dan Dennis campaigned and was elected Senate Floor Leader.

The previous year, Mark Howell was elected Governor at Jefferson City and served in the office this past year.

March 30,31,and April 1, the delegation went to Jefferson City convening with the entire Missouri program. They formed a model legislature serving as representatives and senators as well as the pair of offices obtained by the two elected members. It was a very educational and enjoyable experience for all.

Court Hearings Seldomly Seen

The Student Court, an organization consisting of seven justices, served its second year at McCluer North. An offshoot of the Student Rights and Responsibilities Committee, the court served as an appeal program for students feeling they were dealt with unfairly by a teacher or administrator. Although the court saw little action, sponsor Marilyn Edds believed this to be a positive factor. She said, "This is a good indication that the administration is handling problems well."

Bike Riders Go To Forest Park

"The Bike Club is just a bunch of kids who like riding their bikes," said Craig Reeds, sophomore member of the club. Usually the club met on Wednesdays to plan their trips to take place on Saturday. Their longest trip was to Forest Park with the Y.M.C.A. Peggy Dyer sponsored the club and rode along with them on all of the trips.

McCluer North with its own radio station? That was the goal of the radio club this year. The club was comprised of students interested in electronics. They raised money for parts by selling candy. They were also given some parts from old radio sets.

Dave Roth helped the students with the task. The station was put into operation fourth quarter. When the station was completed, the broadcasts were only transmitted inside of McCluer North.

German Taught By Experience

The German Exchange Club, a co-operative effort between McCluer and McCluer North, made its debut this year as an official club. Sponsored by Larry Marsh and Bill Liekweg, the club served as a preparation for students going to Germany, both financially and culturally. The club also housed German students coming to spend time here.

At their meetings, held both at school and homes, the 20 member club studied the culture and politics of Germany, as well as some basic instruction on the language.

Student exchanges took place during March when 11 girls came here from Hagen, Germany, with their sponsor, Uli Topriz. They went to a variety of social happenings ranging from the symphony at Powell Hall to classes at McCluer North to evenings around town with North students. In August, 13 of our students attended school in Germany and participated in activities much the same as our visitors did here. Sounds like fun? You bet! And the function of the club, as stated by Larry Marsh, "The idea is better international understanding between peoples."

Probe Program Comes To MN

Probe, an organization for gifted students, has come to MN. This club was designed for those students who don't get enough stimulation out of school, or who feel that they need more challenge. Students participate on their own time.

Mike Thacker and Dexter Schraer, Probe sponsors, guided the forty active members in their numerous activities. Some of the more interesting projects Probe members undertook this year were the building of a wind generator, the dissection of a monkey, and painting a mural in the Kinloch YMCA. Every quarter Probe puts out the Probe Quarterly. This was a magazine containing essays, poems, and short stories written by members.

Probe also sponsored cultural activities for its members. Some of which included were visits to an art gallery, a smyphony concert, and several theatre productions.

MN Star Gazer Always Popular

The distribution of the Star Gazer, McCluer North's paper, seemed to highlight the school day for many students this year. The paper consisted of a variety of articles written by members of the staff. The sports section and features proved most popular among students.

Requirements for taking the course were either the permission of Doug Lane, sponsor, or good grades in introductory journalism courses. However, there were no requirements for being on the staff.

A member of the staff was responsible for reporting for articles both during and after school and evening work for getting everything together.

Spectrum Uses North Students' Writing Abilities

McCluer North offered a place for any of its students who felt they had a talent for writing to display their works. The pages of Spectrum, MN's creative magazine, were available to anyone wishing to share their thoughts.

The staff members began working in the fall gathering material for the Spectrum, then met according to their needs. A few of the staff's responsibilities were to choose material, plan layouts, and collect pictures for the final issue which came out in May.

According to sponsor Diane Brandon, receiving enough material was the major problem the Spectrum staff faced this year.

Polaris Editors Win In Indiana

The '78 Polaris all started early one July morning when the co-editors Lynn Brammeier and Meredith Gilchrist, and the assistant editors, Dan Dennis and Steve Sullivan, left for the University of Indiana at Bloomington. There, they attended a two week workshop where the plans for the '78 Polaris were drawn up. These plans by the co-editors took first place with Dan taking a first place in the business management workshop. Steve also received the friendship award.

The plans started taking shape in September with the opening of school. After getting over a minor tragedy of almost missing the first deadline, the year went along without too many more problems. A typical day in yearbook was enlivened by Steve Sullivan singing his version of "The Way We Were," Mike Conger and Dan Dennis eating McDonald's in the back room, or Lynn and Greg Heth arguing about the senior section with Kathy Finn close by nodding her head in agreement to whatever was decided. All in all, the yearbook staff worked many long hard hours to try and turn out the best yearbook ever.

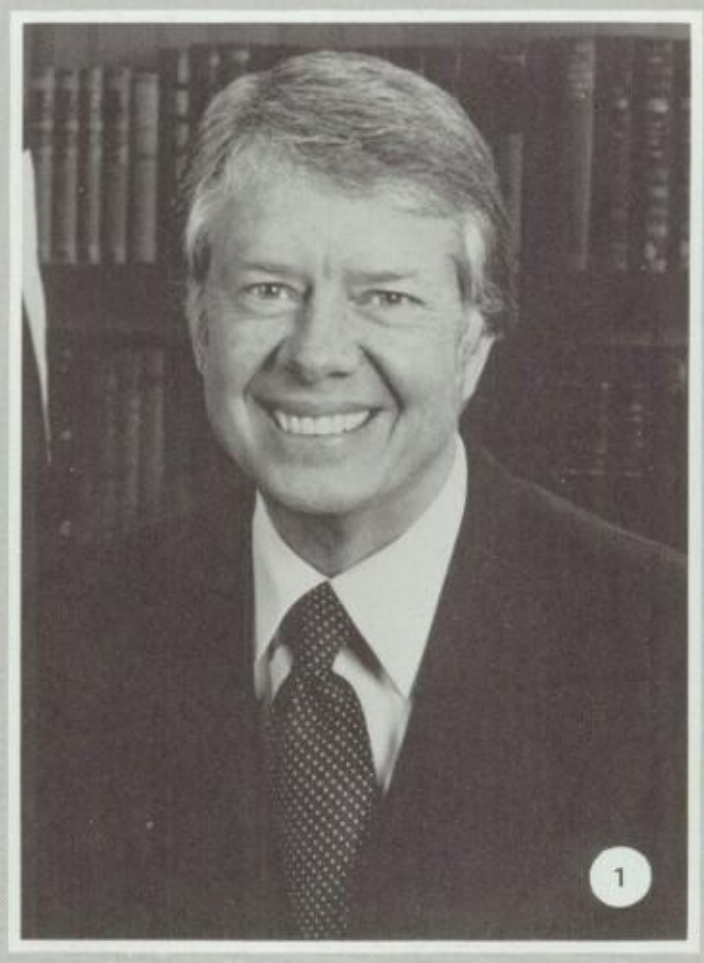
Current Events Effect Students

Memorable events occurred in almost every aspect of MN students' lives this past year.

In the sports world, the thrilling episode of Leon Spinks battling Muhammed Ali caught the nation's attention for a few short hours after which St. Louis' Spinks was crowned the Heavyweight Champion of the World. Don Coryell, the Football Cardinals' Head Coach, was released after several disagreements with the team's owners. Pelé, world famous soccer player, retired and the St. Louis Soccer Stars were sold to California taking with them McCluer North's Al Trost. The Dallas Cowboys overcame the "Orange Crush" defense of the Denver Broncos to win Super Bowl VII.

For avid T.V. watchers, "Three's Company," "Operation Petticoat" and "Love Boat" were a few of the favorites. Box office hits included Smokey and the Bandit, Close Encounters, Star Wars, and Saturday Night Fever. One of the country's most popular songs was "You Light Up My Life."



1 President Jimmy Carter.

2 Don Coryell, ex-head coach for the St. Louis Football Cardinals.

3 Elvis Presley, one of America's favorite performers.

1 The immortal team of Bing Crosby and Bob Hope.

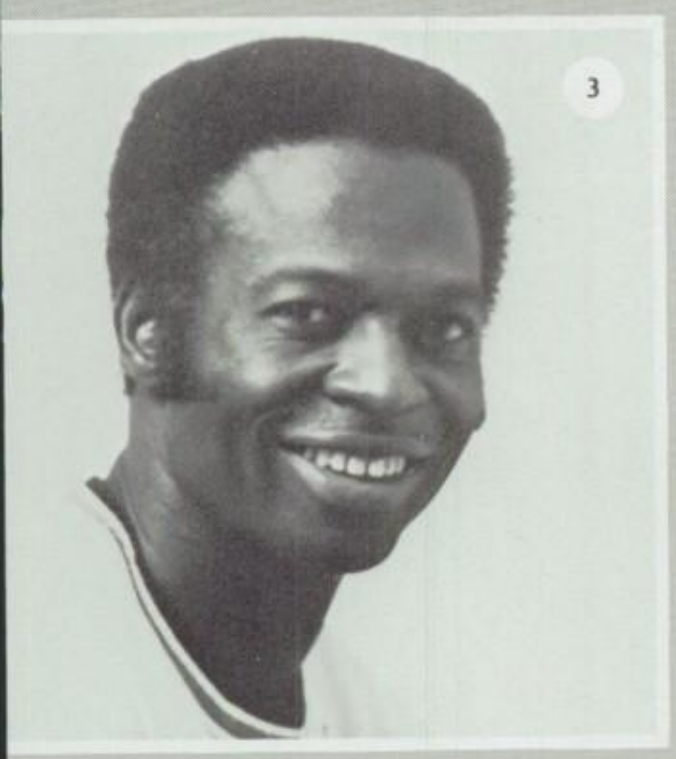
A few of the country's most talked about controversies were the Sadat peace talks, the Panama Canal question and the coal miners' strike which caused families throughout the country to turn down their heaters to conserve energy.

As the months progressed, many of MN students' favorite celebrities passed away including Bing Crosby, Groucho Marx, Guy Lombardo, Charlie Chaplin, and the ever famous Elvis Presley. Senator Hubert Humphrey's death brought Richard Nixon back to the White House for the first time since his resignation.

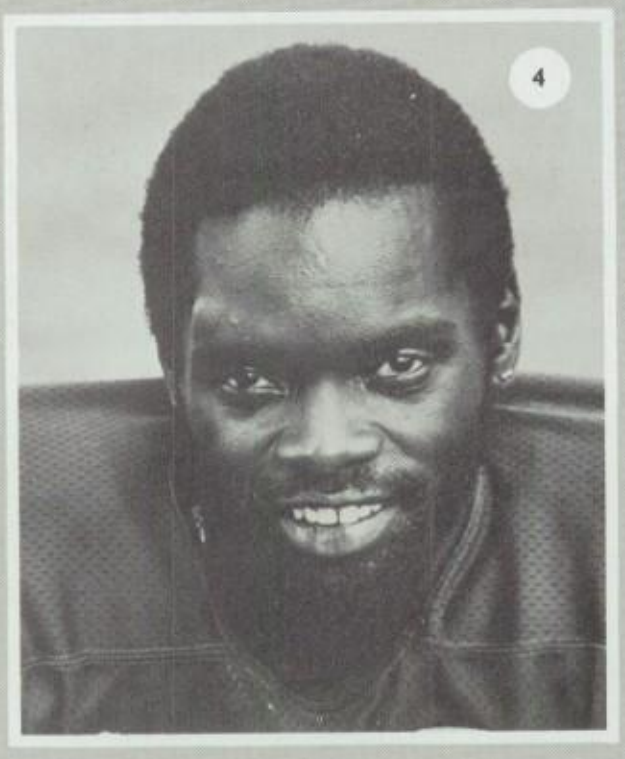
St. Louis was once again hit by a severe winter bringing with it a flu epidemic and cases of the Russian flu. Snow covered the ground for a record of over 50 consecutive days.

All in all, MN students could look back upon 1977-78 as a year to be remembered.

2 After Ralston Purina bought the arena it was renamed the Checkerdome.



3 Lou Brock after breaking Ty Cobbs' stolen base record of 892.



4 Terry Metcalf is just one of the football Cardinals who sought new employment because of unsatisfactory wages.

Orchestra Solo Concert Big Hit

On February 16, the seventh Annual Winter Solo Concert was performed by the MN orchestra. Under the direction of Lynn Basew the four soloists, along with the rest of the orchestra, seemed to outdo their past six years.

The concert was led by a solo concerto on the piano by Ann McCormick. Cindy Hegg followed performing a Mozart concerto on the piano. Libby Triplett showed tremendous talent on the violin while playing a concerto by Bach. Bill Triplett brought the music up to date, performing "Rhapsody in Blue" by George Gershwin. The concert was a complete success with the rest of the orchestra performing equally as well. The entire performance drew approximately one-hundred people, proving that the orchestra is alive and well at MN.

Sports

From Cross Country taking 2nd at state to the Girls' Varsity Tennis Team placing 4th in conference, the McCluer North sports program certainly had more ups than downs. It was a common occurance to see Bobby Meyer's name in every paper in St. Louis naming him as "the best running back ever seen in the North County." Although finally losing 4-3, the Varsity Soccor team provided an exciting game against DuBourg by going into six overtimes. The Basketball Stars kept their fans on the edge of the bleachers by winning many of their games as the last seconds ticked away on the clock. A Girls' Gymnastics team was also added to the list of spring sports giving the North Stars one more team of which to be proud of.

Stars Make A Fine Comeback

"We had a wonderful football season," said Coach Dwyer.

This year Varsity football got off to a slow start, nevertheless the Stars pulled it off as they approached the end of the season. Coach Dwyer said the Stars worked really well together mainly toward the middle of the season.

The game against Parkway West here at North, was considered the best game of the season. "We were extremely down at that time," said Coach Dwyer. "We'd lost two ball games so we made a few changes and the kids really adjusted to it." The Stars were really in great shape to play, he added.

John Hancock, Bobby Meyer, Paul Koch, Mark Rosler, Jim Lane, Dave Sexaur, and Brad Pilkington were some of the most outstanding players. "Working together and extra effort made them work well."

Bobby Meyer, the Star's all star was offered approximately fifty-six scholarships. The team adjusted very well to having a superstar.

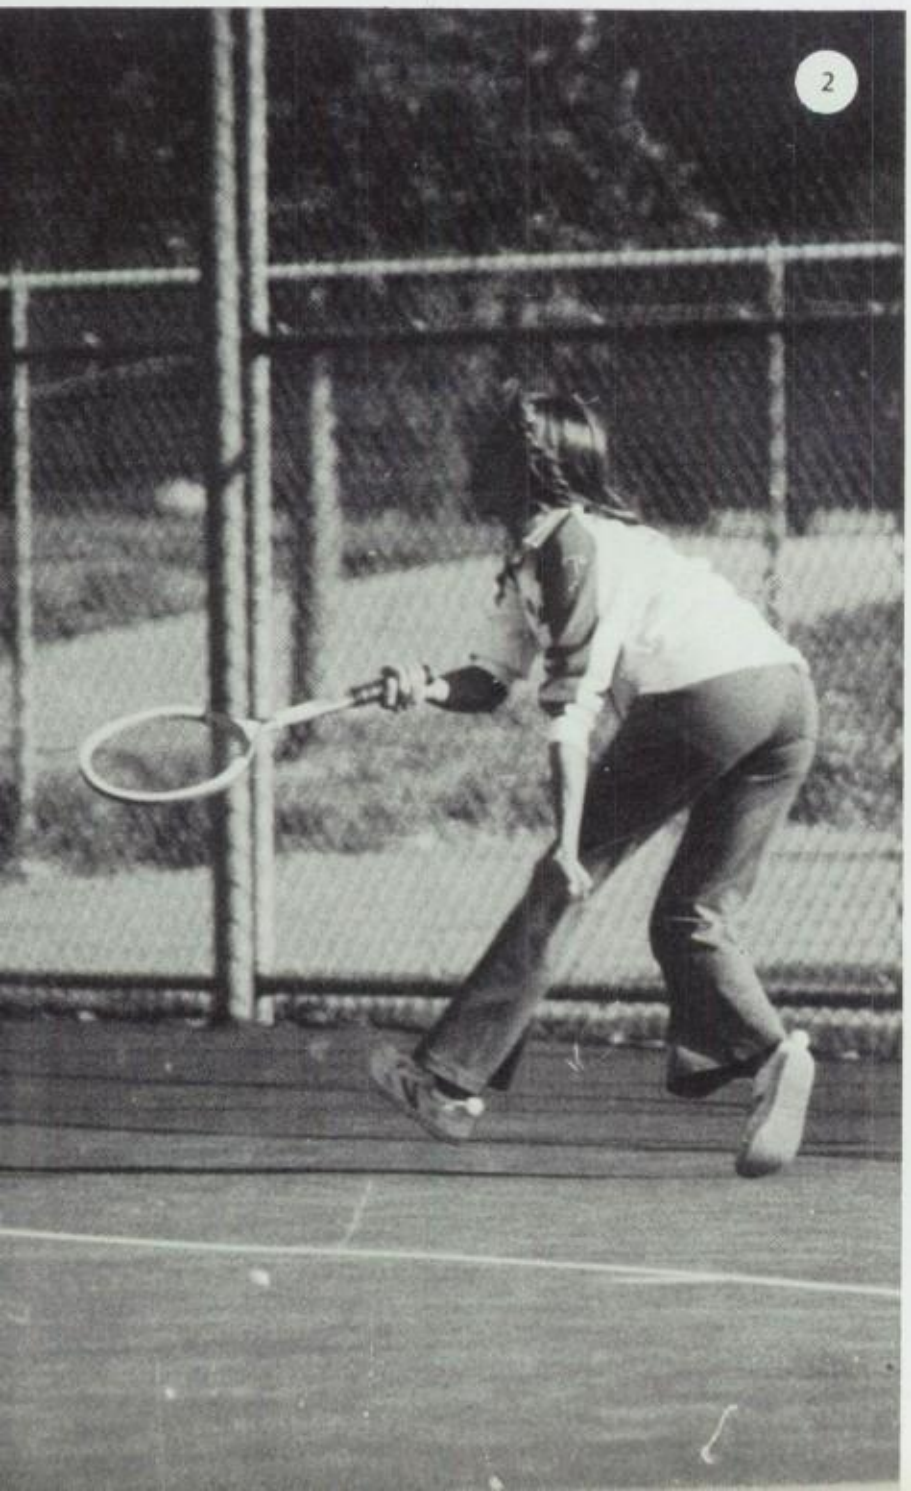
MN Stars Had A Young Team

The MN Varsity Tennis Team which consisted of fourteen talented girls, finished the season with a successful 7-3 league record. With the loss of all but three returning players, the Stars had a somewhat inexperienced team. "What this means is that the team lacked actual playing experience," stated coach Jane Helbig. None the less, she was very pleased with this year's accomplishments.

Something unusual about this year was that the top singles spots were occupied by sophomores. Kim Zohner, Sue Villhardt and Lisa Geers were at first, second and third singles. Kathy Brubaker and Shari Terada, both juniors, played at first doubles. The fact that they were a young team, which was their weakness, will prove to be their strong point next year. "Whenever your top four out of five spots are occupied by sophomores and juniors your prospects for next year can only be high," stated Ms. Helbig.

Throughout the season talent in addition to team effort made this year a successful one for the Stars.



1 Sharon Smith practices to perfect her game.

2 Sue Villhardt displays her tennis ability as illustrated by a ground stroke.

Soccer Players Improve Skills

After suffering the first defeat of the season to Aquinas, the varsity soccer team came back to become the Suburban North champs which helped build the confidence of the team. The team continued into the season successfully including a tie game against Granite City South who became Illinois state champs and another tie with SLUH who was the top team in the area at that time. The CYC tournament seemed to be the turning point of season where, after a lead of 3-1 we finally lost 3-4.

Five players were selected for the all conference team this year. The first team included Mark Collico, selected for the third year, Jim Strange, and Steve Schell who was one of only two juniors chosen for the team. The second team included Don Berhorst and Jack Tracy.

Coach Al Trost felt this to be his most enjoyable season coaching because of the dedication each player had for the game. Trost said he could see the improvement in each individual player both in skill and general knowledge of the game.

When asked about expectations for next year's team, Trost answered, "I'm enthusiastic about next year. There are nine returning starting juniors and some excellant players coming up from B team."

Girls Finish In Seventh Place

"We didn't do as well as I had hoped," commented the girls Softball team coach, Debbie Brown. The team consisted of eighteen girls, including the two managers Nancy McGee and Kathy Robinson. They finished their season in seventh place with a record of 2-8.

The girls team entered one district tournament but they were eliminated from state competition after losing the first game. Weather problems also hindered the game playing, because three games had to be rescheduled due to the rain.

"We have a lot of good players too, although there is still room for improvement," stated Mrs. Brown.

Cross Country Second At State

For the second consecutive year, McCluer North had an excellent Cross Country team. At the state meet in Jefferson City, they were a close second only to Lindbergh, perennial winners, and deserve considerable praise. The team fared well for many reasons, including a wealth of talent and good experience. Mike Ervin, Coach, should be given credit too. In only two years as the head coach he's had two state teams. Over-abundant depth in the team was also a major factor in the team's success.

While the team had such notables as Vic Yeager, co-captain, Tim Kinder, Bill McDonald, and Greg Little running at state for the second year in a row, also had tremendous talent watching from the galleries. Dave Peeples, co-captain, Mark Spindler, Dan Dennis, and John Thompson, although not on the state team, were also key members down the stretch.

The team had many other members, too many to name, that all handed in a superb performance this year. A point should also be made that had it not been for the prolonged injury to junior Rich Renshaw, one of the team's best last year, McCluer North could have very easily emerged victorious as State Champions. One of the brightest aspects of the team is its future. Next year, they will field six of the seven that ran at the state meet.

Volleyball Has Best Year Ever

The girl's volleyball team had something special to be proud of this year. With a final record of 16-4 and second place in the conference tournament, the team's record was the best ever at McCluer North.

The girls displayed excellent skills including spikes and serves which proved to be the team's strength. Key players this year were Corinne Mertle, Marilyn Nilson, Kathy Quigley and Jane Vohsen.

The team practiced everyday for up to an hour and a half. Senior Corinne Mertle commented, "Even though we were working hard, we still had fun."

Expectations for next year are promising. The JV Team, which consisted of sophomores with the exception of three juniors, was undefeated.

Few Members Join Swimming

The boys Varsity Swim Team swam to quite a few record breaking distances this year, among them being the 100 yard butterfly and the medley relay record. Coached by Mike Ballard and Mike McFarland, the seventeen membered team finished with a 8-8 record.

Despite the small size of the team there were many members who seemed to excel in one event or another. According to Coach McFarland, the most promising swimmers to look forward to next year would be Eric Fencl, Mike Colombo and Chuck Wallice, while seniors Brian Conway and Mike Skaggs, on the other hand, proved themselves to be the most outstanding swimmers. Coach McFarland's comment was, "It's a team that is always improving itself, however, we need to look for more members, especially upcoming. sophomores."

Togetherness Is Key Ingredient

Togetherness was the key ingredient of the 1977-78 girls basketball team according to guard Char Hudson. Due to this asset the Stars came in third place in the Suburban North League and finished the season with a 13-5 record.

The Stars had to stay after school every night till 4:30 p.m. to practice drills and lay-ups. Laure Trost felt that practices were very hard, but were worth it.

The outlook for next year's team is very promising with only one starting senior leaving.

MN's Records Excite Crowds

This year's basketball team did an outstanding job winning all 24 games. The most valuable player, Dick Missavage, scored over 1,007 points setting a new school record. Another school record was set for rebounding by Craig Sander. Best of all, the team overall set a record for total wins.

Members of the team took turns acting as captains so that the whole team worked together. The team's coaches were Pete Waldo and assistant Lee Frederichs.

Coach Waldo stated, "Any team beating our Stars needed to play perfect basketball and make no mistakes."

Mike Welch Is Best In County

The wrestling team placed sixth in the St. Louis Area this year and the team sent five top wrestlers to the state tournament. Those wrestlers were Ken Hamai, Mike Jones, Kent Walston, Cliff Welch, and Mike Welch, who placed second in the tournament for the team.

Coach Bob Blanner stated that next year's team would consist of mostly young recruits because the team was losing four important seniors.

3 Coach Bob Blanner seems to be praying for heavenly help during the Riverview Tournament. Despite his prayers, Hazelwood Central won the Tournament.

Young Skaters Have Potential

Some said this year's Hockey Club would not have a winning season. Many thought that without the leadership of Bauer and Gray, last year's captains, the club would fail to prosper. Coach Carpenter realized this year's team was young and inexperienced, but he also realized they had great potential.

Darrell Vancil was this year's leading scorer. He had 24 goals and 18 assists. Other team members who contributed a lot were defensemen, Jim Day and Tim Dwyer.

Coach Carpenter felt the first game against DeSmet was one of the best. "DeSmet was a powerful team and we wanted to beat them and start off the season with a victory. Even though we lost 4 - 2 our team played a very good game." Another exciting game was against Hazelwood Central.

Next year's returning team will only be losing four players. Coach Carpenter felt that they will be more experienced and ready to win.

Varsity Sports Are Successful

This year, McCluer North had many outstanding sports teams and athletes. Special recognition should be given to Bob Meyer, perhaps the best football player this school may ever have, and to Mike Welch, who took second place in the state wrestling tournament in the 119 pound weight class. The Cross Country team placed second in the entire state, when it ran at the state meet at Jefferson City, The Football team finished the season with a 7-2 record, and could have won the conference again if it had not been for an early season loss to Hazelwood Central, who went on to the state finals. However, probably the most outstanding sports team at MN this year was the Basketball team. It finished the regular season with a 24-0 record and won the Conference Championship for the first time in the school's brief six-year history. Dick Missavage (basketball), Craig Sander (basketball), Vic Yeager (Cross country), Bob Meyer (football), Mike Welch (wrestling), Sue Gerken (girls basketball), and Mark Collico (soccer), were some of the outstanding athletes of the year. With sport teams and players like these, McCluer North will surely become state champs in the near future.

2 Dick Missavage, who led the Basketball Stars to an undefeated season, tries to bank a shot in against the Kitenour Huskies.

Soph Team Has Good Defense

The Sophomore Soccer Team placed 3rd in Conference with a 9-8-1 record. Rick LaBrode and Steve Reust were chosen for the All-Conference TEam, with Matt Tracy and Scott Graham receiving Honorable Mentions.

The team had no real weaknesses except for trouble scoring at the beginning of the year. An extremely good defense, and effective teamwork accounted for MN's 33 goals scored, to their opponents 22. Rick LaBrode led the team with 7 goals scored, and 7 assists. Coach Vern LeClaire summed up the season as "... rewarding because we defeated some of the top teams in the area."

Sophs Have Off Season In '77

The sophomore football team ended a long and disappointing season with a 1-8 record. After an initial turnout of 48 players, 14 injuries and 10 drops brought the number of players down to 24. "But these remaining players," stated Coach Terry Henderson, "ended the season with a good playing attitude." Standouts on the team included Bob Dippold at quarterback, Chris Conger at fullback, and Andre Powell at defensive back.

Support Needed For JV Squad

"We had our ups and downs," stated Coach Wallace summarizing this year's JV wrestling season. The major problem the squad faced was recruiting enough wrestlers to fill each weight class. McCluer North's team was unable to represent all weight classes. The teams who had full squads, such as Riverview and Hazelwood Central, proved to be MN's toughest opponents.

The squad practiced every night for two and a half hours from November to the middle of February. Coach Wallace stressed the need for support from faculty and parents as well as students. With the team and coach devoting so much time and effort to represent the school, it's necessary for the wrestlers to feel MN's support.

Soph's Defense Is Main Asset

"Defense was the strength of the Sophomore basketball team this year," stated Coach Bill Liekweg. However, the team could not depend solely on this strong defense. Their weak point was the fact that they could not respond to pressure. This was shown as the team was defeated by six or less points during the last period of their 14 loses. They improved greatly at the end of the season by defeating a few teams who had previously beaten them. Furthermore, Coach Liekweg said, "Some of the players look very promising for next year."

1 Greatly extending, John Jay fights off the defense as he overtakes the ball.

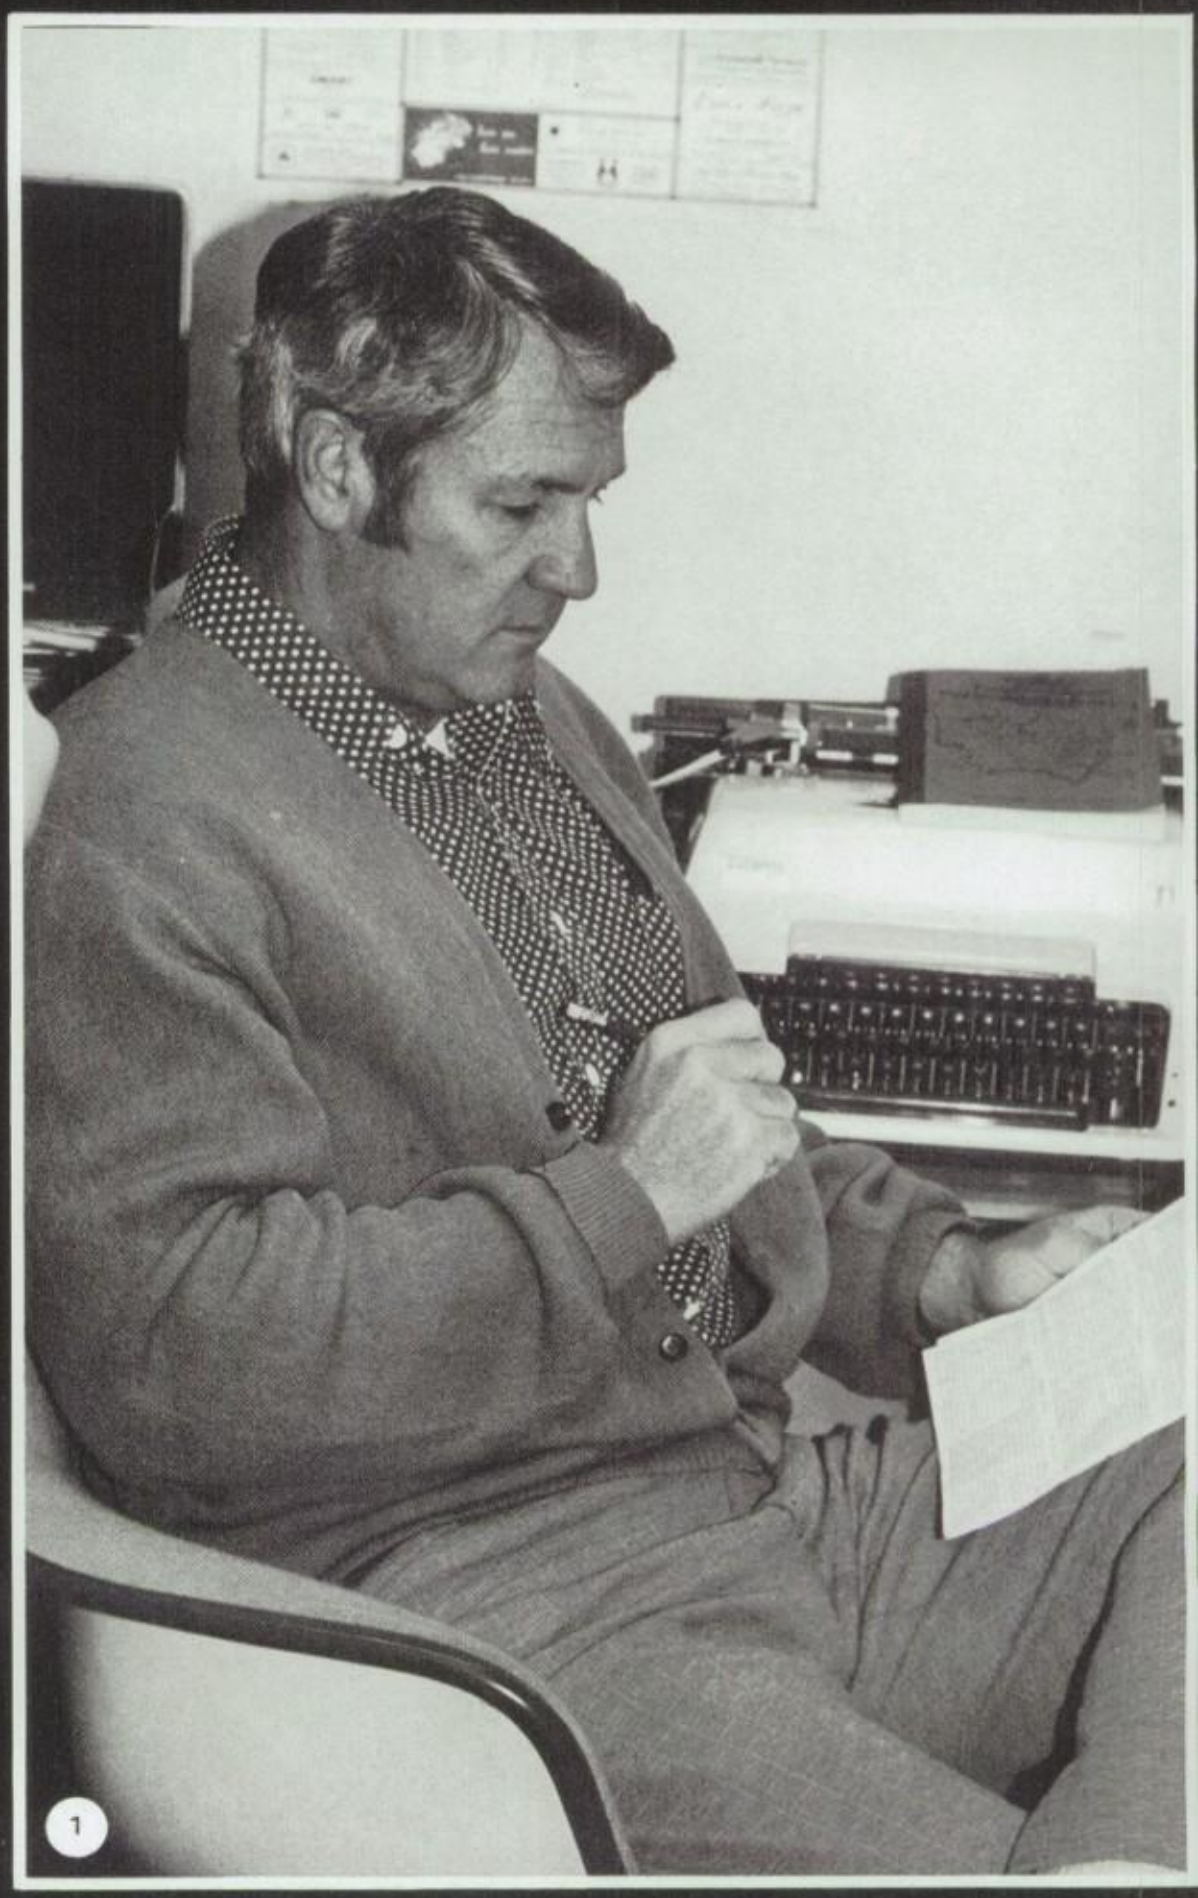
2 Paul Chapman strives to maneuver his way past two of Hazelwood Central's tough guards.

Athletic Director Important Asset

Nestled in the corner of the C3 Room in the Student Center is a small room which is not too noticeable from a distance, but upon closer examination one discovers an office sparsely furnished with a huge desk and a couple of chairs. Not a very picturesque scene, but one must admit that the office definetely has character. Character which can only come from MN's Athletic Director, Mr. Merrill Mc Daniels.

Sitting at his desk amid piles of buisnesslike papers and letters, "Mac" McDaniels (as he is known to everyone), beckons with a friendly wave, any visitor who happens by. Be it teacher or students, everyone feels instantly at "Home".

Although being Athletic Director seems pretty easy, it actually entails quite a bit. Besides helping coaches with problems, attending all the sporting events and teaching three classes a day, "Mac" also does a myriad of things such as writing contracts for fficials, buying equipment for the teams and most welcome of all, being friendly to everyone.



1 Mr. McDaniels glances over 4th quarter classes in his office.

Seniors

As one flips through the next few pages, one face may begin to look like another. Look again. Each student at MN has a unique personality and each has left an impression, each in his own way. Some have academically excelled and have helped build a reputation for North. Others have simply made a teacher smile, made a new friend in class or left their mark on their locker. However minute, part of each person attending North will remain here in memory . . . .

ave you ever thought what it would be like to be lled two different names, all day long, for 18 ars? That's how it is when you're an identical in. There are always people coming up to us (that e don't even know) asking if we have the answers the homework for a class that we don't have. his is an everyday occurance, and sometimes an noying one, but most of the time, we play along, d have fun doing it. There are some advantages being a twin though.

grade school and junior high, we switched asses regularly to beat the boredom. When high hool came along, we decided that getting caught a switch was too big a risk, but no one will ever know if the right Walston was in the right class at the right time.

There have been instances when one of us would meet one of our brother's teachers in the hall and would be accused of skipping class, when actually the missing student was sick at home. At North, we couldn't forget our I.D.'s because of situations like this.

We have to say that the life of a twin leads to some strange predicaments, but we wouldn't have it any other way.

I am employed by Resler Optometry Inc. Dr. Resler doesn't hire people in the usual way, instead, he asks his favorite patients to work for him.

My duties are very interesting. They are: giving eye tests, working as a receptionist, and instructing new contact lens wearers. The most unique job was working as a contact lens technician. This involved measuring, grinding, adjusting, and polishing contact lenses. My job has provided me with many valuable skills, since I plan to enter medicine as a career.

If you have an adventuresome spirit and would like to help people and have fun doing it, then South America is the place. About this time last year I started getting sponsors to help pay my way to South America. I was not going alone. There is an organization called Teen Missions that helps kids, high school age, that wish to do missionary work. There are over 2,000 kids in this group. At the beginning of the summer, we all met in Florida for a two week jungle training session in the Everglades. There, we learned more about missionary work and jungle life. Training was from 5 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily.

After our two weeks my team, which was to go to Peru, left. Teams were leaving for all parts of the world.

Once in Tarapoto, Peru, we started work on building a church. We were there five weeks and when we left, the church was complete except for the roofing. It was a lot of hard work, but we did it with God's help and the Peruvians. They were poor in body, but rich in spirit and heart.

To me that was one of my best summers. Anyone can do it too. All it takes is a strong will of accomplishment. You don't have to be rich or smart. Just dedicated. Try it.

Being McCluer North's first drum majorette has been a great honor for me. I have enjoyed being a part of McCluer North's fine Marching Band. Their hard work and cooperation has definitely been paid off by their excellent half-time performances.

The selection for drum major or majorette is decided by Mr. Luetje. The criteria for selection is based on past experience and dependability. After looking back on the marching season, I can honestly say that I am proud to have been one of the students to lead the McCluer North Marching Band.

Charms Blow-pops, sold by Junior Committee, make blowing bubbles a popular pastime for Debbie Sack and other MN students.

Jerry Little, Greg Higibel, and Roger Waeckerle await the outcome of Tom Rapp's longshot to the trashcan.

I've been interested in aviation and flying for about two or three years. At first I wanted to take flying lessons to get a glider pilot's rating, then take lessons for a private pilot's license. So far it has turned out that the opposite is happening. During an open house at Parks College last spring, a flight instructor was inviting people to take demonstration rides and possibly take flying lessons. Two weeks later I took such a ride and my father asked if I would like to take flying lessons and, of course, I said yes. I have now been taking lessons for five months and I hope to get my license in June.

Modeling is a hobby of mine that I enjoy doing in my spare time. I like clothes and it's fun to experiment with different types of clothing and different styles. It lets me be creative in that I can coordinate my own wardrobe.

I got interested in modeling by going through a basic modeling course at Sears. I followed up my interest by taking the advanced class after which I was selected to be on Sears' "Teen" board along with seven other lucky girls.

I am considering modeling as a career, but that decision is a long way off.

Since I believe everyone should have a hobby to keep him busy, I started making necklaces in my spare time. Many materials including string, silver with beads, and plain silver are used in my necklaces. These necklaces make very nice presents which I like to give as special tokens to special people.

Charles Head practices sketching different kinds of facial features.

I have been taking piano lessons for a period of eleven years from Sally Shaw Gran Music School. During my years of growing knowledge in music I have achieved trophies, certificates, and several pins. I received these by attending an audition each year. At the auditions I played before a judge then received a letter grade. My grades average between 93 and 96 on a scale of 100.

From what I have learned through my piano experience I have improved my singing ability. I plan to graduate from my studies with the piano in April 1979. The piano has been a very interesting and helpful part of my life.

As a result of my lifelong interest in astronomy, I decided that I wanted to write and publish a paper containing current astronomy news and features on various aspects of space. With the help of Mr. LeClaire, the first issue of my paper, the Celestial Observer came out in January, 1977. Now, after almost one year of printing, the Observer is in full color.

A few of my other interests include meteorology, geology, health, and jogging.

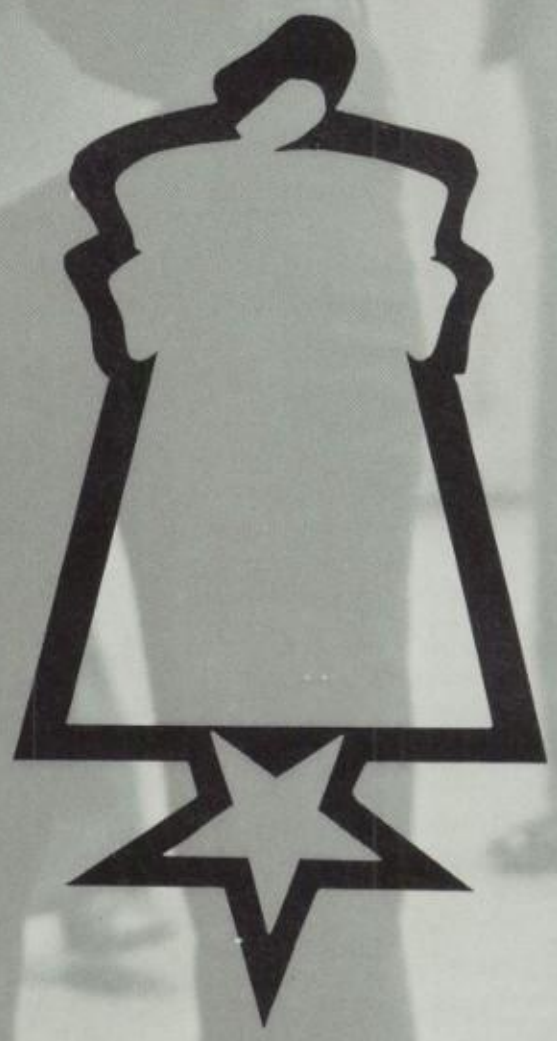
Academics



McCluer North's Academic program has been considered on of the best in the country. It has been a deversified program with such unique courses as the Community Learning Program and CPU's; Cooperatively Planned Unit. An attempt to improve curriculum was the addition of the Honor's Program. The purpose of the Honor's Program was to recognize students who took accelerated classes and received a 3.5 average or better in these courses. Although it was too late for many seniors to receive honors this year, the program with some revisions should prove beneficial to students in the future.

R2 Board Sets District Policies

The Ferguson-Florissant School Board were the policy makers for the entire district. It was their responsibility to carry out the laws of the state. They also kept the financial records and made the teacher policies. Dr. Howell, School Board President, felt that choosing teachers and reviewing their contracts every year was one of the board's most important jobs.

The school board lost one of its long time members Dorothy Cunningham who had served on the board since 1962. She was a former president and was serving as secretary at the time of her death. Plans were underway to establish a natural science museum in her honor. She was replaced by Mrs. Carol Briggs.

Hampton Cares

The duties of a principal hardly ever change. Principal Bill Hampton spent much of his time talking with students and helping students who were having trouble in school.

Mr. Hampton saw the school year as very successful with no major problems. The curriculum was very strong, new courses were very good and the academic work was the best that it had been in the past six years. Athletics went well, the merger was not such a big issue and students were more comfortable with each other and with teachers. Mr. Hampton also felt the Honors Program went well, but it would need some revisions in future years and it would take a year or two for students to become familiar with it.

Martin Tempel Enjoys His Job

Although Martin Tempel's original educational goal was engineering, teaching began to interest him in college. After fifteen years of teaching, his last year when McCluer North first opened in 1970, he was asked to become principal.

Being principal was a busy job but Mr. Tempel enjoyed it. He handled registration, progress reports, and grades. One responsibility he enjoyed very much was scheduling of classes and students because it reminded him of engineering.

During the summer months his work continued. He began to prepare new schedules and classes, rearrange schedule conflicts, and meet with the administrating committee to plan ideas for the coming year.

Mr. Tempel stated that he missed having classes and that if he weren't a principal at MN he would go into engineering. However, he enjoyed his job which is the kind of enthusiasm MN needed.

Graham Works For All Seniors

Delores Graham had many different college experiences which helped her become a principal at North, such as assisting in the teaching of Psychology, helping a professor write a book and assisting the English lab department.

Dr. Graham's job, other than dealing with the senior class, was evaluating teachers in the Art and Communications Departments, doing in-service jobs such as planning workshops, keeping attendance records, and helping students leaving early.

4 Dr. Graham reviews the credit status of all senior students.

Jason, Man Of Many Aspects

Carl Jason earned his B.S. at Lincoln University, M.S. at Fisk University, and M.A. at the University of Arkansas. He is presently working on a P.H.D. at Saint Louis University.

Carl Jason, assistant principal, is a man of many aspects. Mr. Jason's job not only included discipline and attendance of juniors, curriculm planning, IIC, teacher evaluations but also consisted of locker assignments, field trips, and counseling.

Mr. Jason felt, "The merger was more succesful, as teachers and students felt more comfortable." Above all Mr. Jason's main goal was to make sure he was always available to help students above and beyond his other duties.

1 Carl Jason: Junior Principal

2 Bruce McCullough talks with Mr. Jason about attendence policies.

Kreyling Likes Student Contact

"I like being in contact with students, and I like the feeling of being able to help them whenever possible", said Sophomore principal Larry Kreyling. He also commented on the fact that even though he liked being around students, he didn't like to see the same students over again without improvement.

Disciplining students and taking care of the attendence of Sophomores was one of Mr. Kreyling's main duties. Among his other duties was being in charge of commencement exercises, building security, and the staff handbook. Aside from all the previous responsibilities, Mr. Kreyling spent most of his time on attendence and discipline.

"I would like to deal more with the school curriculum than continuously working with attendence and discipline", said Mr. Kreyling.

3 Larry Kreyling: Sophomore Principal

Proffitt Expands Student Interests

Student Director Terry Proffitt's main goal this year was to try and give all of the students who were interested in activities the chance to start a club. Some of the new clubs were Rifle Club and Executive Committee. The students at North seemed pleased with the activities that Mr. Proffitt organized.

Mr. Proffitt also has had past experience as an assistant principal at McCluer and here at North. He enjoyed this position, but commented that he enjoys his job at North as Student Director better than working as a principal.

Secretaries Like Student Contact

School was a year-round job for secretaries at McCluer North. Secretaries had a tremendous amount of work to do before school resumed in the fall, and they only had a three week vacation. All eleven secretaries were busy year-round with their own duties such as: scheduling, grade reporting, changing records of all students and ordering books and supplies. The staff had one less secretary this year since Dorothy Niceley, former advisement secretary, was transferred to Cross Keys Jr. High as Registrar. Some of the secretaries have been here at MN since the school opened including Ruth Niehaus, Mr. Hampton's secretary. She enjoyed working with Mr. Hampton and like all the other secretaries liked working with young people.

Staff Tries And Reaches Goals

The McCluer North Counseling staff accomplished its goals for another year. Getting students scholarships, and helping them find a suitable college were just a few of their goals. They also arranged for speakers from various colleges to come and speak to MN students. Of course advisors helped with these jobs, but the final outcome rested on the shoulders of the counseling staff.

Helping students with career goals is not always a rewarding experience as the counselors usually don't see students after graduation. The counselors however did another fine job this year in helping MN students . .

Advisement Is Still Improving

The well-developed McCluer North Advisory system has been picked up in schools all across the nation. In other schools, there are only counselors who help the students progress through their years at school. At North, the whole staff plus counselors are involved in the advisory system. This provided more personal contact with the students since there was a much smaller student-advisor ratio. Therefore, it provided more opportunities for the students since their records were more accessible. This year another devise, yearly checklists, was added to show students where they should be each year. If students and advisors accomplished each suggestion, it was beneficial. Bill Hampton, principal, stated: "Advisement went quite well."

MN Media Serves Community

The Media Department continued to excel this year in service to school and community. They assisted such activities as football, basketball, and pom-pons by printing rosters and video-taping. The daily bulletin, ditto printing for teachers, and all notices around school were products of the group. Out of school, the department took on public relations roles by sending out the "Newsletter" and taking pictures for local newspapers. The only major change in the department was the close work Dale Davis undertook with the student photographers. Education and technique for this group of the department was intensified with good results.

Nurse Is Busy

Florence Garifo, nurse of McCluer North, found this year to be much the same as those of the past, but a little busier. Authorizing P.E. excuses, organizing student medical records, and caring for ill students dictated the best part of her time. She summed it all up when she said, "The same as other years, but busier."

Casual Library Is Extraordinary

Sssh . . . that's what one hears when going into any ordinary library, but at McCluer North there was room for talking. The entire south end of the library was open for quiet talking. If students needed to study in silence, they could go to the north end to a study carrel.

The results of the survey, given to seniors and faculty by the library, highly rated the library's casual atmosphere and excellent reference room. The reference room has a great selection of encyclopedias, vertical files, and magazines.

Joyce Evans, the head librarian said, "Our main goal was to provide opportunities for students and faculty feedback about their feelings and ideas of the library services."

Title VII Aids North Students

Title VII is a government funded project. The money was to assist school districts who were in deseggregation processes. Money was only funded one year at a time. If the districts needed more money, there had to be a request for more funds the following year. Districts only qualified if they were under court order processes. "The aim for title VII," said Mr. Hamptom, "was to help the pupils improve."

Each district came up with its own ideas. This year McCluer North emphasized English and Math. The people involved in the Title VII program were Helen Delaney, Sherry Wilkerson, and Michael Holdan who were teachers. The others were Virginia Mathis, Darryl Henderson, and Sandi Hixson, who were teacher's aids.

Science Stays Popular At MN

This year, the Science Department added two new courses, Environmental Ecology, which deals with the environmental problems and issues of today, and Advanced Chemistry, where students learn about carbon compounds, analyze the "unknown", study the chemistry of living systems, and review math relationships of chemistry. This was the first year that students were able to take Advanced Chemistry courses for four full quarters.

Of the eleven teachers in the Science Department only one, Joan Ashley, who taught one section of Physics, was new. Ms. Ashley was not new to the school, but has been teaching math at North for one year.

Field Biology was still a popular class, but because of its limited enrollment, only a few students were able to take the class. A high percentage of students took science courses this year. Roughly 1300 students were enrolled, which is one of the highest enrollments in the district. Duane Lang, Science Department Chairperson, saw no decline in students taking science courses and felt they would still be popular at North in future years.

Changes Bring Good Feelings

"We have upgraded our courses quite a bit, and I now think that we're literally ready for anything," stated Pat Dick, head of MN's Communications Department.

Signs of improvement started at the beginning of the year with the changing of Personal Writing to Creative Writing. Teachers and students "seemed to be more satisfied with the change," continued Pat Dick. Free Reading was dropped because of the many negative comments received from parents and teachers. Fourth quarter started with two new courses of interest, British Novelists and Types of Literature.

Because of the many courses available, Communications teachers were constantly on the move, running from room to room for each class. Hopefully these teachers can look forward to the day when they will have an Audio Visual room to themselves where the running from room to room is reduced.

American Studies Course Added

The Social Studies Department provided students with opportunities in many areas. The addition of American Studies, brought English and History together, the CLP and CPU programs, brought students closer to the community and let students specialize in specific learning areas, and the special programs such as Close-Up and Psychology Practicum, let students learn outside of school.

American Studies focused on the American character traits and provided greater understanding of America's heritage. American Studies was a fairly popular class. The teachers felt that the class went over very well and that student attitude was good.

The special programs, Close-Up and Psychology Practicum, let students learn away from school in a different environment. Close-Up, a travel/study program, went to Washington, D.C. The six students that went, one on a scholarship basis, learned and got involved in America's government and had a great time. Psychology Practicum, at St. Louis State School and Hospital, allowed students to provide volunteer service with the mentally retarded. Bob Chamberlain, Social Studies Department Chairperson, said that people come from all over the country to visit Bob Cliff's Psychology Practicum program and he felt that it is a very special program unique to North.

In all, the Social Studies Department was a very big part of North and added a wide variety of courses to the curriculum.

Math Addition: New Textbooks

Again this year, the Math Department was doing very well. With an enrollment of about 1200 students per quarter, McCluer North's Math Department continued to be the envy of many of the other high schools in the area. Improvements this year included a special tutor and some new text books. Henry Johnson, the new tutor, taught here last year under the federally-funded Title Seven program. Also continuing this year was the excellent advanced program that allows brighter students to learn at a faster rate. Pete Wetzel, department chairman added, "About the only other thing we could hope for is a more central location in the school."

Larger Classes In Drivers' Ed

The Drivers Education Department was really lucky first quarter as students were involved in no accidents. Since first quarter students are usually more likely to have accidents, this year's record was a good one considering the large enrollment of 420 students. The main reasons the students took Drivers Ed were that parents made them, insurance companies offered reduced rates, and students wanted to learn to drive the safe way. MN obtained its cars from Paddock Chrysler Plymouth who donated the cars free of charge. The school only paid for maintenance, for installation of brakes, and for the gas. Dan Howard, department head, stated he liked teaching Drivers Ed because he wanted to teach the students the responsibility that comes along with driving. Students at MN will be driving safely because of the Drivers Ed department.

Students Learn Job Proficiency

Career Development and Employment and Occupations were both a part of Vocational Education. Career Development is a work study program in which the students assesed themselves and then investigated career possibilities. Employment and Occupations was a course in which students acquired and retained a job. Most students held a full-time or part-time job.

Both teachers Margaret Olson and Dee Ann Ryan created their own learning program. "Many times we sit down and brainstorm to come up with teaching ideas" said Miss Ryan. Since students are enrolled in Career Development and Employment and Occupations for one or two years the curriculum is always changing. Mrs. Olson and Miss Ryan met with teachers from McCluer and Berkeley High Schools every two weeks to help solve problems that might come up. Also they met with the students employees to help evaluate and iron out problems that the students might have had on the job.

Food Classes Serve Lunches

Once again Home Economics proved to be popular among the student body at McCluer North. The courses ranged from sewing and foods classes to child development and interior decoration, with Child Development as one of the most well liked classes. In this course the student not only learned about the growth of a child before and after birth but also the care and responsibility that goes into raising a child. Something new this year was that the Advanced Foods class fixed lunch for the teachers once every week.

COP Teaches Responsibilities

The Community Outreach Program was one area where many students were able to experiment with future ambitions. Those interested in teaching, nursing or just psycological insights in general, found that COP was just the thing. There were openings in elementary schools, day care centers, the Missouri Hill Boys Home, nursing homes, Christian Nothwest and special schools. Ms. Edds, new cooridinator of COP, stated that some students found what they really wanted to do through the program. It also taught them the responsibility of taking on a job, for every student had to report to his assigned area each week. COP broadened a student's scope in working with people and handling responsibility.

Students View Realistic World

Spending a quarter with a forest ranger, learning the techniques of an attorney or even taking part in the life of a fireman are just a few of the examples which provided MN students with an opportunity to experience the realistic work world and learn things not offered in the regular school curriculum. The Community Learning Program, under the direction of Dave Carpenter, Bob Deckert, and Joe Naumann, reached out to at least 150 students a year.

"The students usually have a preference as to what field they will be entering when they're older and with some knowledge of that particular field, they'll experiment with the true picture of the work world, instead of the highly colored world of the television characters," stated Joe Naumann.

CLP students worked three hours a day at their designated jobs for nine weeks, during which time they met once a week at school to discuss experiences or problems which anyone was having. "The CLP is the most fantastic program in the school," concluded Joe Naumann.

Rain Drenches Gym Activities

The thuds of basketballs, the cracks of bats and the swishes of tennis balls landing in the net, were just a few of the sounds that opened MN gym classes last fall. The faculty, including Dennis Henley, a new teacher from St. Claire, aided the students in broadening their sports education. One new class students were happy to see was gymnastics.

While all of the activities were going on, either inside or outside, safety precautions were being taken in locker rooms and at gym doors to prevent further problems with stolen articles. Problems were also trying to be solved concerning the rainy weather season. Pete Waldo head of MN'S PE Department said, "During the rainy days the outside classes really suffer, meaning that the hallways, and any room with available space are put into immediate use."

Students Lured Into Basement

Most people dared not venture down into the basement. There was one group of people who gladly risked all of the perils-the Industrial Arts students. They cheerfully descended into the basement every day to smell the sawdust and listen to the melody of the power drill.

This year, McCluer North once again had an excellent Industrial Arts Department. There was only one new addition to this year's Industrial Arts teaching staff, Mike Wagner. Although all of the Industrial Arts classes were popular, the Woodworking and Welding classes were the most outstanding.

Classes Aid In Job Preperation

As each year passes, the enrollment for the Business Department increases. This year was no exception.

A new class called Business Occupations was added to the enrollment. Classes such as Secretarial Practice, Apex Model Office, Accounting, and Typing remained very popular among the students.

A shift in teachers also took place this year. Barbara Bullock, formerly a general business teacher, changed to Distributive Education. Sue Benassi decided to teach general business again after working in the Title VII program last year.

The business classes remained an important part of many students' curriculum as a source of improvement of personal skills, or as preperation for various jobs and college courses.

Senior Students Show Portfolios

This year the Art Department stayed basically the same. There were no course changes and no new teachers were added. One new feature was showings from the Missouri Arts Council in the library, featuring such artists as Goya, Edward Hopper, and Vasarely.

The Senior Art Portfolio Exhibit is presented yearly and has been held for the past four years. This year fifteen seniors participated in the Exhibit. The Exhibit was geared to a select number of students who had special interests in art. It gave the students the opportunity to display a large part of their work to viewers from colleges and universities which awarded some students scholarships and grants.

Changes Occur Among Faculty

This year, Spanish, French, German, and Latin students learned their languages by various methods. They translated written material, listened to tapes, and were given oral lessons in which they were required to carry on conversations with other pupils. Gail Klein returned this year to teach French after living a year in Europe, while Cindy McGee left in November for Tennessee.

Some activities were also planned such as trips to foreign-style restaurants and Foreign Festival. A trip to Mexico was also organized and took place over the summer. A student exchange program, offered by this department also, allowed students from MN to live in other countries as well as bring foreign students to live with American families in the Florissant area.

New Vibrations Heard In Choir

"A new choir was formed this year, called "Pop Choir," because at the concerts, people complained that there wasn't enough popular music," commented Greg Heth. Pop Choir performed at many events throughout the year, including MN's Homecoming Review. They went by the signature song, "I Got the Music In Me."

Another new class, held second hour, was Dixieland Band. This band was formed for the true band-lovers. Their performances were popular, including many with Pop Choir.

A new voice was heard this year in the crowd. It belonged to Sharon Woll, a new teacher from Ferguson Jr. High. Two classes taught by Miss Woll, were "Music Listening" and "Choir II."

Linton Luetje, MN's Band Director, summarized the activities of all the bands and choirs by saying, "They are as busy as can be."

Day Care Has Many Benefits

Was it possible to have fun at the zoo on a cool, rainy day? The weather made it even better, according to the thirty-four kids in the McCluer North Day Care Center. Rain tried to ruin their special day in October but something so trivial as weather seldom discourages a pre-schooler.

The Day Care program helped develop the children's social awareness by exposing them to others their own age as well as to students and adults. Students also benefited from the program. "It helped them develop a positive self-concept while also giving them the opportunity to adapt certain parenting skills," said Jane Wilbas, head of Day Care.

Many Lunches Prepared Daily

A thousand hot lunches were sometimes made on a busy day in the cafeteria. Preperation began at 7 a.m. each morning in order to accomplish this. There was more work to preparing and serving the food than the cafeteria workers were often given credit for.

There was a constant flow of students and staff through the snack bar each day. The snack bar served coffee, doughnuts, and fresh fruit for breakfast. Hot sandwiches, suzy Q,s, and ding dongs were available for lunch. The snack bar provided a nice place for a quick snack.

School Repairs Ease Job Load

Repair work done during the summer at McCluer North made the custodians' job much easier. "Things are much easier to clean without water dripping off the roof into the trash cans," said Bill Smothers.

There were two shifts, day and night. The responsibility of the school was divided between the two. The students were grateful to the custodians for the job they did.

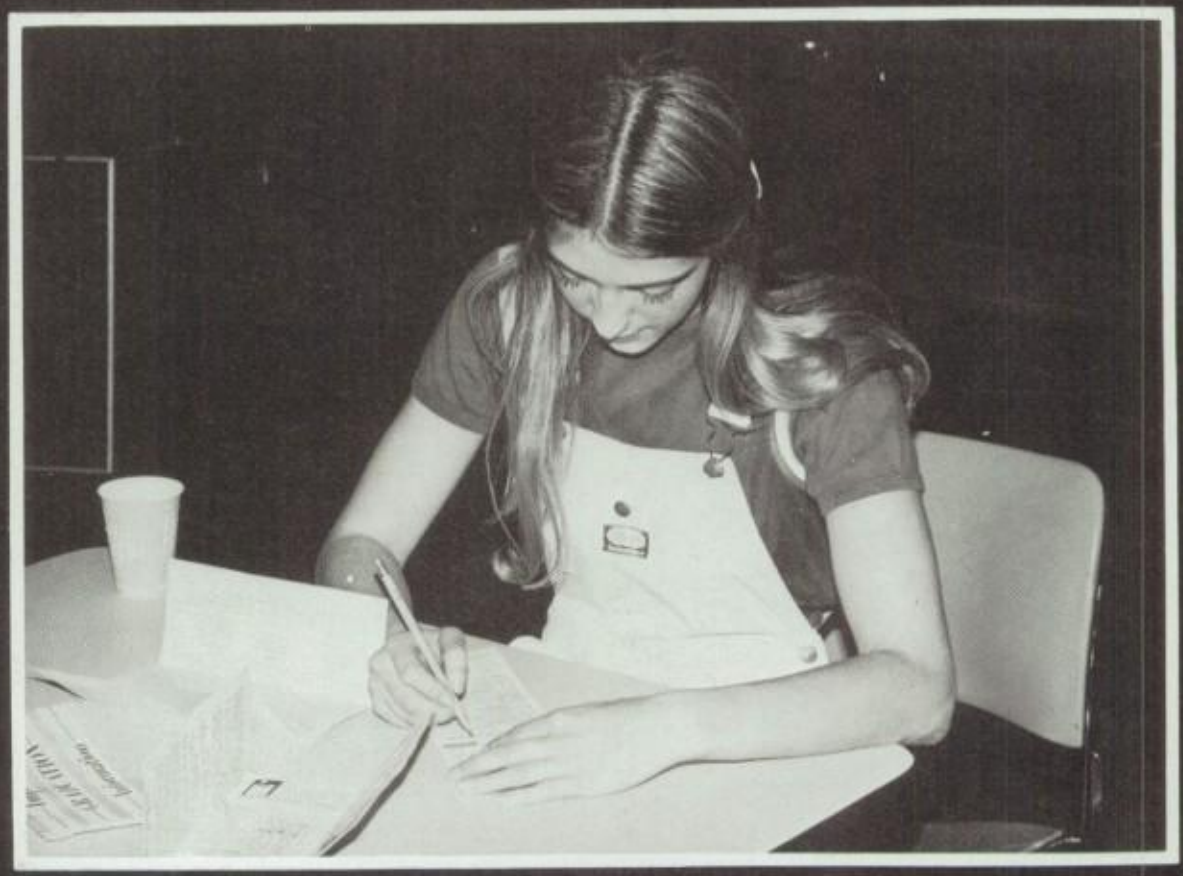
Greg Terada finds sliding down banisters faster than taking the stairs.

Tradition!

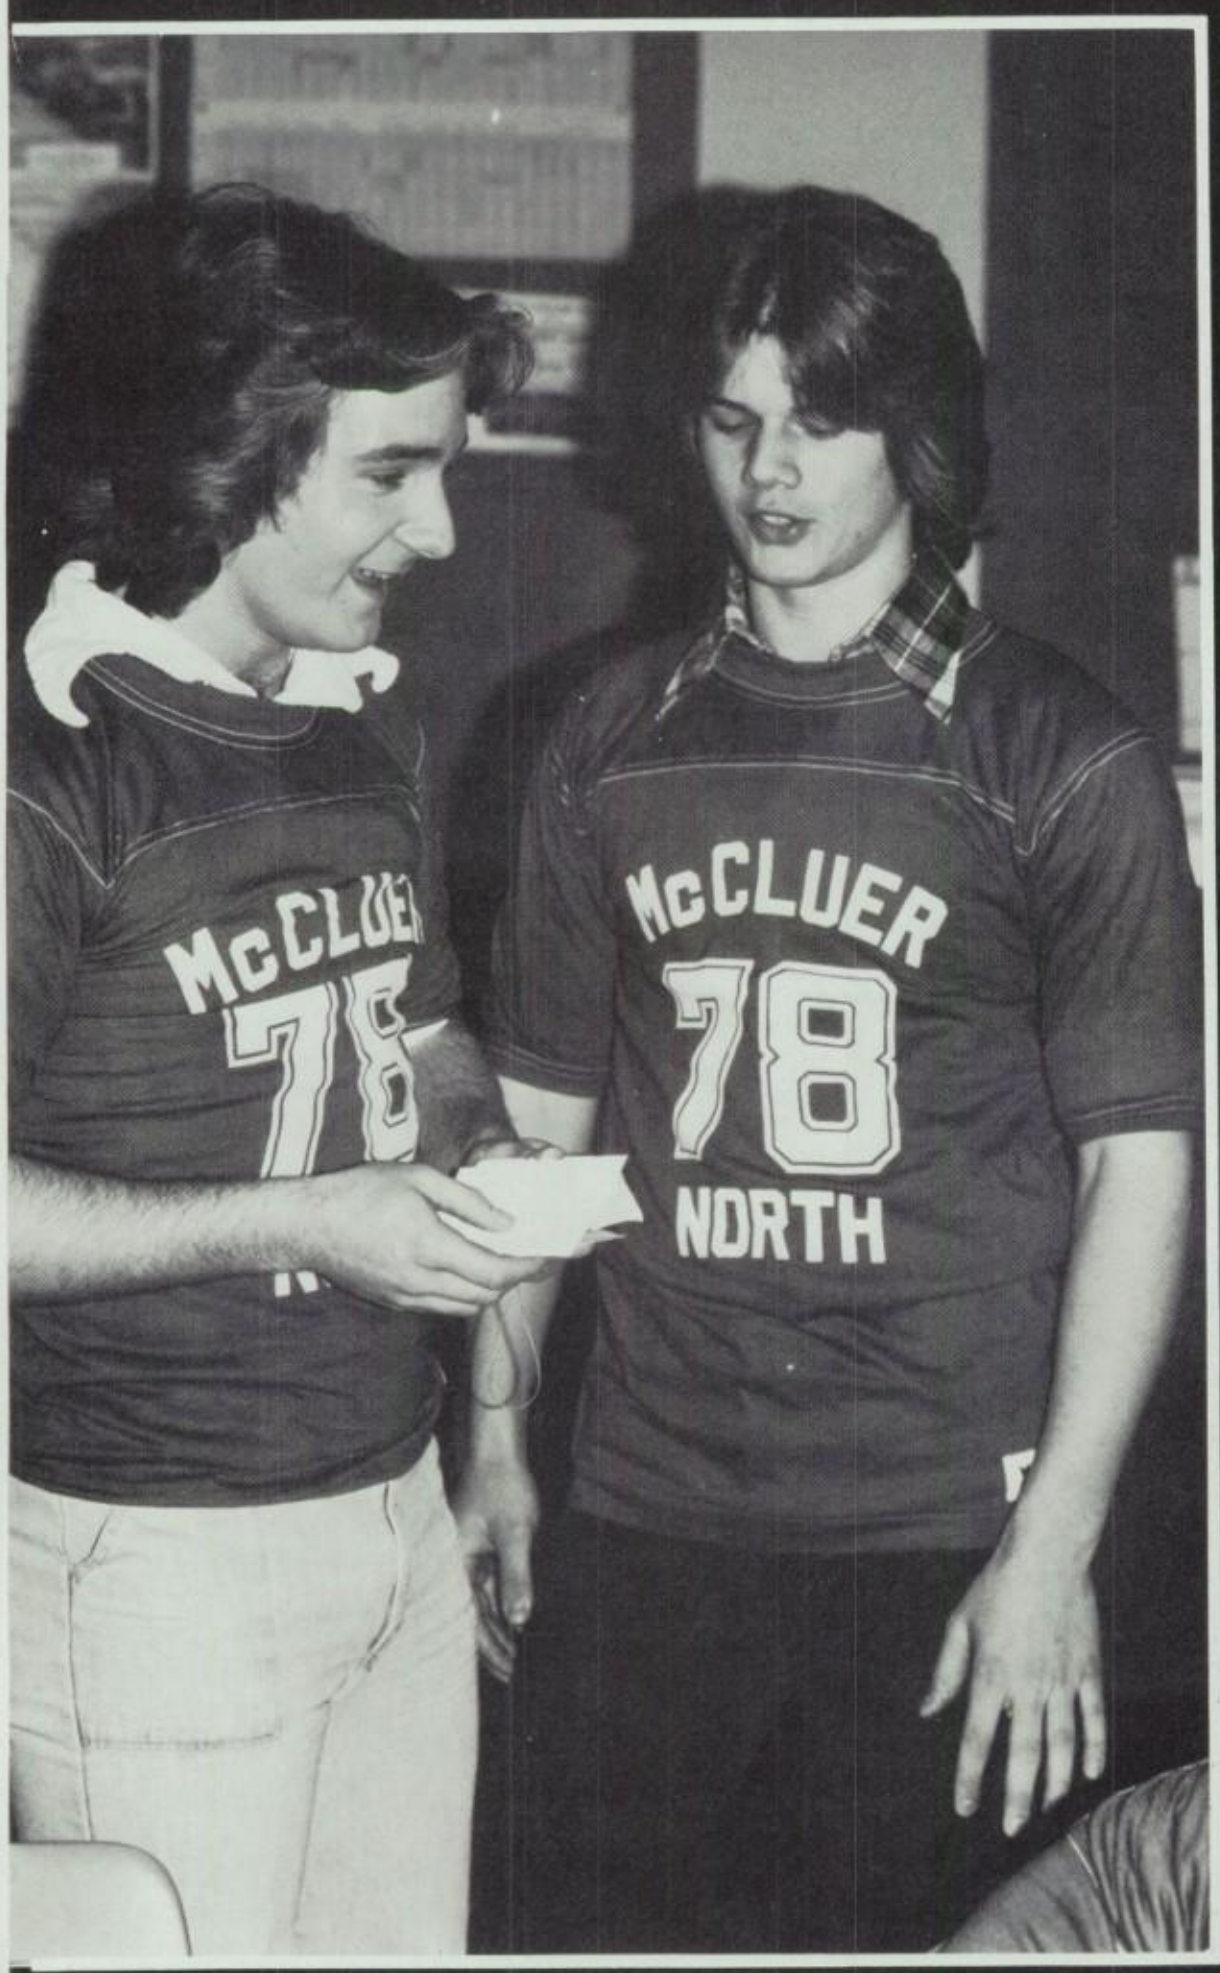
Liz Clark, Alvin Henderson, Kim Stewart, and Rhonda Kidd find the con-course a relaxing place to play cars on commons.

Nancy Evans decides how many graduation announcements to order.



Rich May enjoys one of hi favorite classes.

Tom Gaffney, John Lawler join with the rest of the seniors by wearing their jerseys on Senior Jersey Day.



New. Unique. Modern. Not necessarily so anymore. Others have adopted our radical ideas and we've settled down after seven years of constant scrutiny. We've convinced the skeptics. Our quarter classes continue to change . . . so does our open space concept . . . not particulary unique anymore.

Seven Years Behind Us

Barb Collins has a hard time deciding which style of class ring to buy.

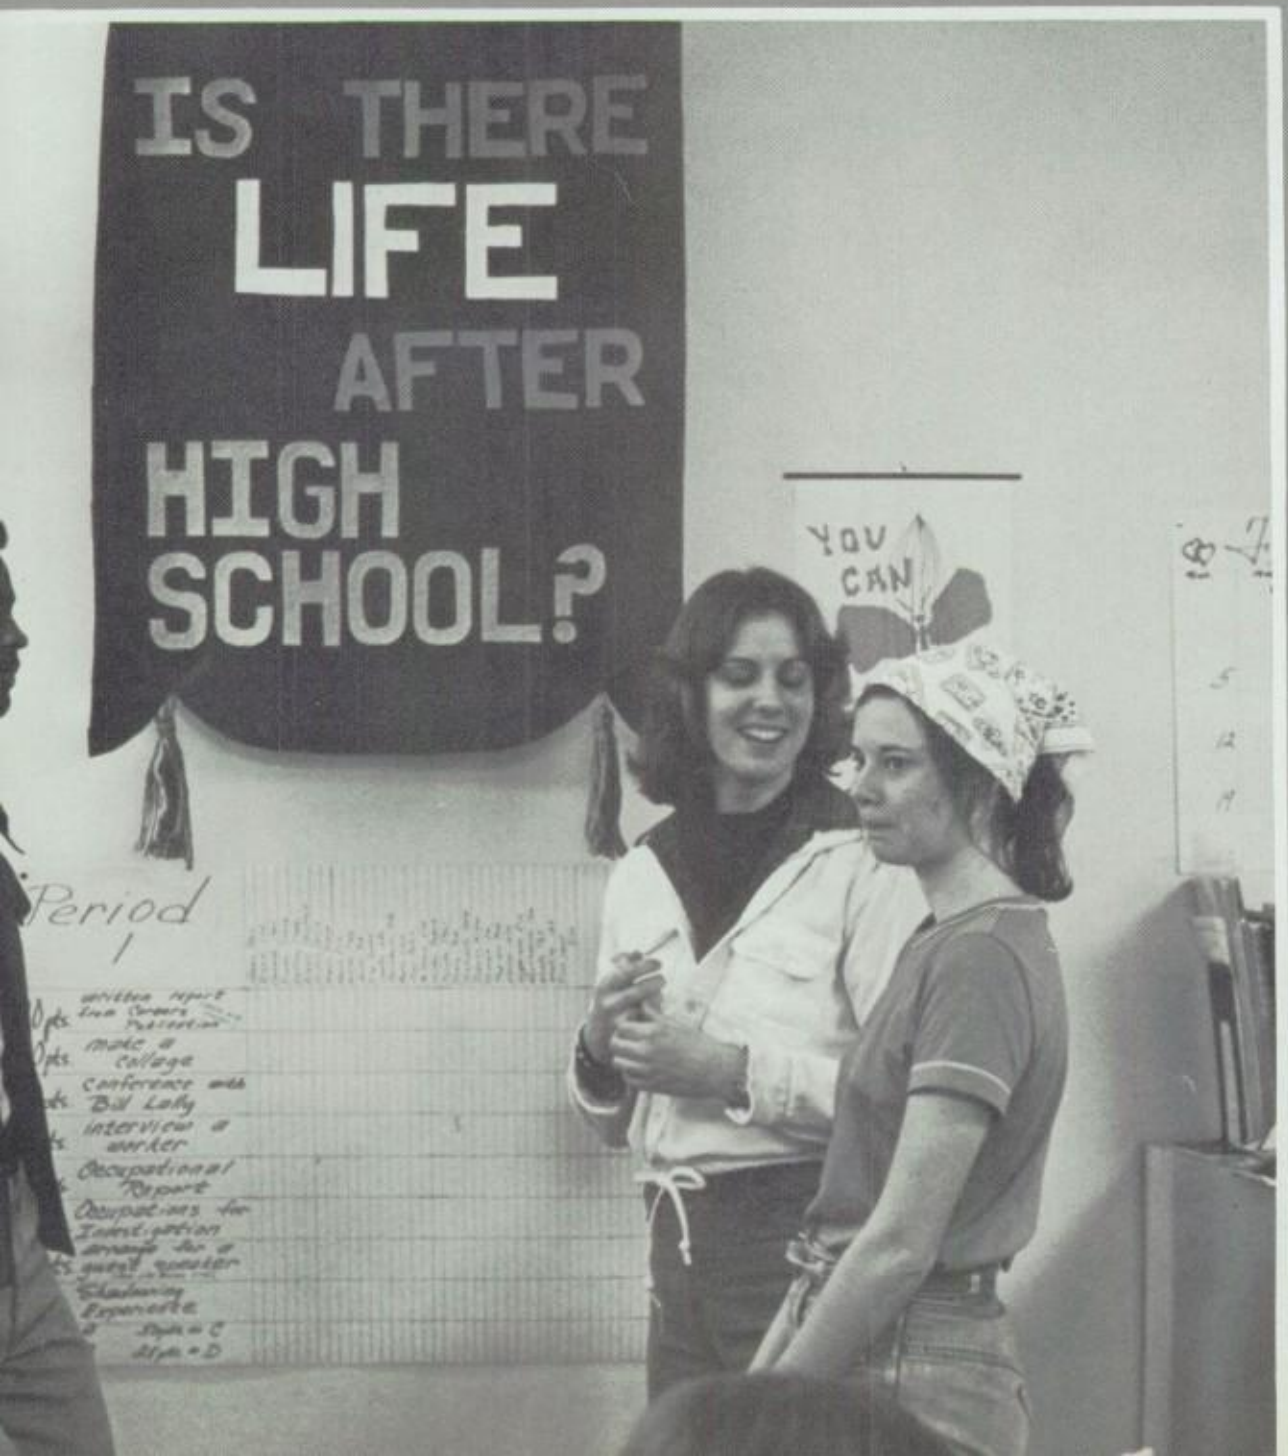
Greg Koester, Bennie Peebles, Jenny Marren and Shelly Turner discuss if there is life after high school.

Senior Dave Stout gets measured for his cap and gown, just one of the many things seniors must do before graduation.



One-hundred and twenty faculty members and 2,200 students worked together in '78 to prove our point. Like denim, we've passed the test of time and developed a comfortable, well worn, neat fitting identity all our own. Suddenly, when we scream "We're number one", we're really screaming we've got traditions, a reputation, and seven years behind us now!

Colophon

Polaris ... 244 pages of memories and more. It started with a theme, a basic idea to capture the uniqueness of the '77-78 school year and a theme to hold the book together. From there, the pages were designed, copy was written and pictures were taken to express this theme as vividly as possible. Changes were made in this year's book in an attempt to make it better and more enjoyable for the reader. Although many bridges were crossed in the process of publication, Polaris once again captured many special moments of '77-78 school year.
